Farm Plan Fight Is Stressed

Mansfield Going All Way in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana promised today an all-out fight in the Senate for President Kennedy's new farm proposals aimed at reducing multibillion-dollar costs and surpluses.

"But it's a difficult piece of legislation," the soft-spoken Democratic leader told a reporter. "It may take most of the week."

Sen George D. Aiken, R-Vt., senior GOP member of the Senate Agriculture Committee and a veteran of congressional farm battles, agreed in a separate interview that senators face a dispute that may echo in this year's congressional elections.

Favoritism, He Says

"This administration has been playing favoritism with its farm programs and the farmers are not asking the drastic proposals it advances," the white-haired Vermont senator said.

While the Senate argues about the farm programs, House leaders have called for action Wednesday on a new authorization of nearly $4 billion for the nation's space programs.

Routine matters are listed for House action today and Tuesday with no votes scheduled. The space authorization carries $3,742,-162,00, which is $111 million below the President's request.

Agriculture outlays in recent years have been around $6 billion a year. Another $9 billion is tied up in storage of surplus corn, wheat, cotton and other commodities.

Few Original Requests

As reported by the Senate Agriculture Committee, the 84-page farm bill retains few of the Kennedy administration's original requests.

Dropped completely was a dairy support program involving supply controls and a tight acreage and marketing control proposal for corn and other livestock feed grains.

Mansfield said the effort to restore this latter proposal will be led by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Has Dairy Proposal

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Senate that he would seek to amend the bill with a substitute dairy section.

In place of the mandatory supply controls removed by the committee, Proxmire proposed price supports of up to 90 per cent of parity for dairy producers voluntarily agreeing to produce no more than their 1961-62 base.

Neither the administration request nor the Senate bill would make any changes in federal programs for basic crops produced in the South, including cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

STORM DAMAGE—This giant shade tree of many years was no match for Saturday afternoon winds that felled it at Fair and St. James Streets along with a traffic light and wires it caught on the way down. (Freeman photo.)

Leave Damage Saturday

Parts of Kingston Hit By Electrical Storms

A series of freak, exceptionally heavy electrical storms passed over portions of Kingston Saturday afternoon, drenching parts of the city and leaving other sectors "bone dry," while doing a high amount of damage.

A tree was knocked down at Fair and St. James Streets and took a traffic signal and telephone wire down as it fell. Emergency stop signs were put up at that location by the Department of Public Works on order of Police Chief Robert F. Murphy. The DPW said that the traffic signal would have to be replaced.

A telephone pole and a tree limb along with television aerial and a cablevision wire were downed in the city. The DPW reported today that the pole was back up, but that the wire and limb were still down.

Tree Removed Today

The storm also felled a tree on Abeel Street near Hudson Street, blocking off half the road but leaving space for traffic to pass. The tree was removed this morning.

Waters from the storm flooded a cellar at 11 Rogers Street, and also flooded the Broadway underpass at the railroad bridge. According to the DPW the flood waters there caused the pavement to crumble.

Sewer Covers Forced

The DPW also reported that many small damages were done throughout the city by the storm including the forcing off of manhole covers by the pressure of the waters in the sewers.

Another tree fell on Brook Street damaging electric wires and there was scattered damage about town from limbs, Central Hudson reported. Repair crews summoned from sections of the city areas where the storm passed by were taken by surprise when call for emergency assistance was sent out.

Kingston Cablevision reported service was out for approximately an hour in the area served by the St. James and Fair Street system and on the Boulevard. Emergency crews quickly restored the service.

7 of 14 Deaths Through Mishaps Occur in Traffic

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Fourteen persons lost their lives in accidents in New York State over a weekend marked by soaring temperatures and lightning storms.

Seven of the victims were killed in traffic accidents.

One of the most tragic of the deaths was that of Arthur Tim Mott, 31, of Rouses Point, whose broken body was found at the bottom of an embankment shortly before he was to have been married.

Mott and a friend, Richard Frenya, 24, was killed when their motorcycle plunged down the embankment Friday night.

Three men were drowned Saturday night when two motorboats collided on Little York Lake in Cortland County. One of the victims was a man who had set out in a boat to rescue the others.

The dead were Dale Stoker, 28, of Homer, and Jack Sangeorgi, 25, and Malcolm Leonard, 41, both of Cortland.

Temperatures soared to the upper 80s and 9s Saturday and hit 99 in New York City. The heat and humidity ignited electrical storms in many sections of the state and one of them Saturday claimed the life of 10-year-old Kim Welch of Schroon Lake. Kim and relatives who had been camping on Mount Pharoah in the Adirondacks had sought shelter in a cabin atop the 2,500-foot mountain when a lightning bolt invaded the structure.

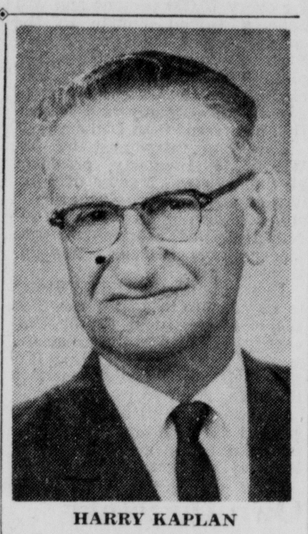

Other accidental deaths over the weekend:

Kingston units of the 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard, played host to some 400 visitors at the State Armory on North Manor Avenue, Sunday afternoon in observance of Armed Forces Week.

The Guardsmen had a full day of training activities and during the afternoon there were exhibits, tours and refreshments for all. The local unit of the Civil Air Patrol, under command of Major Sidney Lane, also participated in the event with a display of emergency ambulance equipment.

A feature attraction of the afternoon was a two-hour band concert presented by the Musician's Union Local 215, AFM, under the direction of Marlin Morrette. Stirring military marches by the 25-piece band brought approving response by the attentive audience.

The unit's single wing aircraft circled over the armory site and saluted the visitors. The 50-ton 8-inch self-propelled howitzer used for training at the local station was maneuvered about the field to demonstrate its versatility under combat conditions. Radio communication was fully utilized.

At 4 p. m, ceremonies were conducted on the lawn in front of the armory. Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, under command of Captain Edward J. Warning Is Given On Buying Seat Belts

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state motor vehicle commissioner warns that some unscrupulous dealers may try to get rid of stocks of substandard automobile seat belts before a new belt-specification law takes effect in the state July 1.

Automobile owners who buy belts between now and that date should be on their guard, Commissioner William S. Hults said Sunday.

On July 1, all belts sold in the state must meet state standards. Many of the safety devices now on the market do not, Hults said.

The department now is testing belts for strength and the efficiency of their release mechanisms.

Cyrus Roberts Vance Is Named Secretary of Army

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Cyrus Roberts Vance, hard-working general counsel for the Department of Defense, has been named to succeed Elvis J. Stahr Jr. as secretary of the Army.

President Kennedy announced the appointment, subject to Senate confirmation, in New York Sunday. Stahr is resigning as of June 30 to become president of the University of Indiana.

Vance, 45, is a former naval officer and Yale-educated Wall Street attorney. He entered government work in 1957 as special counsel of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, then headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

He is the third Johnson man to hold a secretaryship at the Pentagon. Both former Secretary of the Navy John Connally—whose house Vance recently bought—and Connally's successor, Fred Korth, are Texans and friends of Johnson.

Vance was named general counsel for the Defense Department Jan. 29, 1961. Shortly afterward, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara gave him the additional responsibility for management and organizational planning within the department. His new job pays $22,000 a year.

Among his Pentagon colleagues he has a reputation for a calm, quiet, objective approach to problems, an incisive mind, and long, long hours.

Vance was born in Clarksburg, W. Va., March 27, 1917. He was graduated from the Kent School, and received his bachelor of arts degree in 1939 and law degree in 1942, both from Yale.

Then came four years of naval service, including destroyer duty in both the Atlantic and Pacific. He came out in 1946 as a lieutenant.

He was assistant to the president of the Mead Corp. for a short time then, in 1947, joined the New York law firm of Simpson, Thacher and Bartlett, becoming a partner.

Tall, slender and slightly graying, Vance is a Democrat.

Thursday Is Set For Aurora 7's Flight in Space

CAP CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Technicians checked Aurora 7, the Mercury spacecraft of Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter, and its Atlas launching rocket in detail today.

If they find no more "bugs" in capsule or missile—if the weather holds—if other factors all are favorable, then the Aurora 7-Atlas combination will blast off next Thursday between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

A successful launch would fling Carpenter into the same type of 100-mile high, three-orbit flight that Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. made Feb. 20—but with several new experiments to be performed.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had planned last week to launch Aurora 7 Tuesday. Discovery of a possible defect in an electrical device that keeps the Atlas flight control system from freezing up forced a postponement of at least two days.

Carpenter's backup pilot is Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr.

Five Hurt in 9 City Accidents During Weekend

Five persons were injured in nine automobile accidents in the city during the past weekend and one person escaped injury when his vehicle was struck by a southbound train and dragged approximately 25 feet down the railroad tracks.

George Schleede, 74, of RD 1, Ulster Park escaped injury when the vehicle he was operating collided with a southbound New York Central Railroad train Sunday at 9:10 a. m. on Ten Broeck Avenue approximately 300 feet west of Grand Street, police reported.

Gates Were Down

Schleede told city policemen that he turned around on Ten Broeck Avenue and though that he had his car in reverse when the vehicle went forward and collided with the train. The crossing gates were down, he said. The accident was investigated by Patrolmen James Scott and James Amato.

Three persons were injured in a two-car accident Saturday at 5:40 p. m. on Greenkill Avenue near Pine Street.

Charles Adler, 21, of 118 Downs Street was injured about the left arm and side, Betty Katcher 66, of 192 Hasbrouck Avenue was injured about the left arm and leg and Thomas Dugan, 26, of RFD 3, was injured about the right leg. The woman was taken to Kingston Hospital and Dugan was treated by a physician and released, city police reported. The accident was investigated by Patrolmen Thomas Carpino and Richard Scherer.

Brotherhood Asks .25 Hike

Railroads Call Demand Of Union Inflationary

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The nation's railroads, stalemated in negotiations with operating unions in overhauling work rules, were faced today with what they termed an inflationary demand by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The 15,000 - member brotherhood was asking a 25-cent hourly pay raise.

A spokesman for the brotherhood, largest of the five operating unions representing 210,000 employes in the United States, said its general chairmen were presenting the bargaining position to the 110 Class I railroads.

Other Benefits Sought

Also sought will be fully paid health and welfare plans providing life insurance for each employe with a year's earnings to survivors upon death, also hospital medical and surgical expenses for employes and dependents. The union did not specify how much this would add to its package. The plan would go into effect June 21, the union said.

"We view it as being entirely inflationary and contrary to public policy," said James A. Wolfe, a chief railroad management spokesman in Chicago. A spokesman for the Association of American Railroads said in Washington that the demands were not unexpected.

The Pay Scales

Basic hourly wage scales for trainmen range from $2.85 to $3.12 according to the union.

Spokesmen for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Brtherhood of Lcomotive Engineers, both with headquarters in Cleveland, agreed that they all felt an increase is needed, but they said they had no immediate plans to follow the lead of the trainmen on wage and welfare demands.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, at President Kennedy's urging, kept a close watch on the troubled situation. Goldberg summoned labor and management representatives to Washington for a meeting Wednesday in an effort to get talks resumed on work rules. Those negotiations broke off in Chicago last Thursday after sessions lasting six weeks.

Goes Beyond Board

The trainmen's demand goes beyond the 10.2 cents an hour recommended by a presidential fact-

Hercules Strike Ends by 191-116 Vote of Members

By a vote of 191-116 Saturday afternoon, Local 13226, District 50, United Mine Workers of America representing 471 workers, voted to end the three-week strike at Hercules Powder Company, Port Ewen.

The vote was taken at a membership meeting held in Municipal Auditorium, and followed a negotiating session Friday afternoon attended by union representatives and Federal mediators John Wilson, New York City, and Edward Eidt, of Albany.

Both Sides Pleased

D. C. Parker, works manager at Hercules, issued the following statement today:

"I am very much pleased that agreement on a new contract has finally been reached by Local 13226, United Mine Workers of America, District 50, at Hercules. We can now all pull together as a team once more to get back into production."

Local 13226 President John H. Bach, reported the results of the vote this morning. "We hope to operate amicably for the next two years," he said.

Lasted Three Weeks

Bach stated that workers are returning to the Port Ewen plant today and Tuesday, and added "most of them were on the job this morning." He said Saturday's vote ended the work stoppage and the strike which lasted the last three weeks.

On Saturday it was reported that Local 13226 plant employes had resolved the differences in the work contract between Hercules and the local.

Thousands Forced to Turn Back

Escape From Reds Was to No Avail

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China announced today it is ready to accept all refugees from Red China wishing to come to Formosa from overcrowded Hong Kong, where thousands of hungry fugitives are being herded back across the border.

World criticism has rained down on Nationalist China and British authorities in Hong Kong alike because of the human tragedy of hungry Chinese being forced to return to Red China after escaping.

Assailed on All Sides

The United Nations and various countries have contended the refugees should go to Formosa. And the British, who say they simply cannot handle any more refugees, have been assailed on all sides for sending them back behind the Bamboo Curtain.

The Chinese Nationalist Cabinet announced the decision and allocated 1,000 tons of rice for immediate emergency relief for refugees now in Hong Kong.

The government also decided to ask other countries welcoming refugees, such as Brazil, to help handle the tide of refugees.

Nationalist China has taken some of the refugees after careful screening since the influx into Hong Kong began shortly after the Red Chinese conquered the mainland in 1949.

Screening 1,000

The Free China Relief Association agents in Hong Kong are now screening 1,000 refugees for resettlement in Formosa. But taking 1,000 refugees will make hardly a dent in the thousands upon thousands of refugees in Hong Kong.

It may take some time before any substantial numbers of refugees arrive in Formosa.

The government plans security measures to safeguard against any influx of Communist agents trying to come to Formosa in the guise of refugees.

To Expedite Plan

A joint meeting of Chinese Nationalist Interior Ministry officials and the Free China Relief Association decided to expedite plans for reception and resettlement of refugees in Formosa.

The flow is continuing despite efforts of Hong Kong police and British troops to cut if off at the border of Red China.

From 6,000 to 7,000 refugees were rounded up last week end and sent back, reports from Hong Kong said.

$75,000 Damages Voided

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — The New Jersey Supreme Court today voided $75,000 in punitive damages levied against the Thiokol Chemical Corp., for noise and blast generated by its tests of the X15 rocket engine.

However, the court upheld $25,-605 in damages won by 15 homeowners who live in Lake Telemark, Rockaway Township, near the test site of the reaction motors division of Thiokol.

The court vote in the space age case was 7-0.

Technician Will Not Return to Russia

ZELIENOPLE, Pa. (AP)—Robert Webster, who gave up his American citzenship in the Soviet Union in 1959, has returned home disillusioned and tired but with hopes of undoing "the wrong' I did."

Webster, 33, a former plastic technician in Cleveland, Ohio, arrived at Greater Pittsburgh Airport from New York Sunday night. He rode some 20 miles by taxicab to Zelienople where he went into seclusion at his father's home.

Looking for Work

Webster, who left his wife and two children behind when he defected after going to the Soviet Union in 1959 to set up a Rand Corp. plastics exhibit in Moscow, said he would take any job he can get.

James Rand III, president of the Rand Corp., has said he felt a responsibility for Webster and would attempt to get him a job, though not with Rand's own firm.

Webster, wearing the same blue suit he bought in Cleveland and wore to the U.S.S.R., said he had no immediate plans except that he wanted "to rest a little." He told newsmen he was confused and tired. He also appeared nervous.

In New York he told newsmen he hoped for a reconciliation with his former wife, Martha, who has divorced him. She lives with their children in the Zelienople area where they both grew up.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow said it was informed Webster left behind a Russian girl and her baby in Leningrad when he returned to this country.

Webster said he is in America to stay.

Admits Mistake

"I missed my children and family and wife, of course," he said. "They treated me well in Russia but I don't want to go back."

Webster, who worked as a plastics technician in the Soviet Union with a salary he termed equivalent to $500 a month, said he had made a big mistake and wanted to rectify it.

Webster turned in his passport and renounced his U.S. citizenship in October 1959. Three months later he applied for a permit to re-enter the United States but was refused.

He is here on a Soviet passport which, he said, is for an indefinite period. Webster must seek American citizenship in the same manner as foreign-born immigrants.

More of Wilderness Land to Be Open For Public, Plan Set for Adirondacks

DIAMOND POINT, N.Y. (AP) —The state conservation commissioner says his department plans to open up more Adirondack wilderness to the public through additional foot trails, lean-tos and boat-launching sites.

The program is to be carried out first in Clinton, Essex and Franklin counties and serve as a pattern for such development in all of the 2.5-million acre preserve in the Adirondacks and Catskills, Commissioner Harold J. Wilm said.

Wilm outlined his plans in a speech Saturday night at the annual spring meeting of the State Conservation Council.

The preserve and the inaccessibility of some of its wilder sections is becoming an increasingly controversial subject in the state. At least two plans have been put forth recently to zone the preserve into various recreational areas—some for popular usage, such as camping and picnicking; some for more rugged activities such as hunting and fishing, and some areas to remain as relatively untouched wilderness.

The Constitution requires that the preserve be kept wild. The zoning plans would require a constitutional amendment.

Although the state has developed some trails, campsites, lean-tos and other facilities in the preserve, some groups contend that its potential as a playland for the masses is being wasted.

Notable among these has been Robert Moses, chairman of the State Council of Parks.

Such proposals have alarmed various conservation groups, which fear that the preserve would be spoiled.

Wilm said some of the most enjoyable areas of the preserve had been shut off from the bulk of the state's population because there was no access. His program, he said, is necessary "to meet the growing demand for public outdoor recreation."

He said the Conservation Department also was considering development of a system of horseriding trails into the remote preserve areas.

About 150 persons attended the three-day State Conservation Council meeting.

The Adirondack Conservation Council met in conjunction with the state group and passed a resolution urging the Legislature to allow an earlier opening date for the bear-hunting season or to declare an open spring season on bear in parts of the Adirondacks.

The council said some communities in the Adirondack preserve were in danger of being overrun by bears.

Thursday Is Set For Aurora 7's Flight in Space

CAP CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Technicians checked Aurora 7, the Mercury spacecraft of Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter, and its Atlas launching rocket in detail today.

If they find no more "bugs" in capsule or missile—if the weather holds—if other factors all are favorable, then the Aurora 7-Atlas combination will blast off next Thursday between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

A successful launch would fling Carpenter into the same type of 100-mile high, three-orbit flight that Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. made Feb. 20—but with several new experiments to be performed.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had planned last week to launch Aurora 7 Tuesday. Discovery of a possible defect in an electrical device that keeps the Atlas flight control system from freezing up forced a postponement of at least two days.

Carpenter's backup pilot is Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr.

Five Hurt in 9 City Accidents During Weekend

Five persons were injured in nine automobile accidents in the city during the past weekend and one person escaped injury when his vehicle was struck by a southbound train and dragged approximately 25 feet down the railroad tracks.

George Schleede, 74, of RD 1, Ulster Park escaped injury when the vehicle he was operating collided with a southbound New York Central Railroad train Sunday at 9:10 a. m. on Ten Broeck Avenue approximately 300 feet west of Grand Street, police reported.

Gates Were Down

Schleede told city policemen that he turned around on Ten Broeck Avenue and though that he had his car in reverse when the vehicle went forward and collided with the train. The crossing gates were down, he said. The accident was investigated by Patrolmen James Scott and James Amato.

Three persons were injured in a two-car accident Saturday at 5:40 p. m. on Greenkill Avenue near Pine Street.

Charles Adler, 21, of 118 Downs Street was injured about the left arm and side, Betty Katcher 66, of 192 Hasbrouck Avenue was injured about the left arm and leg and Thomas Dugan, 26, of RFD 3, was injured about the right leg. Brotherhood Asks .25 Hike

Railroads Call Demand Of Union Inflationary

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The nation's railroads, stalemated in negotiations with operating unions in overhauling work rules, were faced today with what they termed an inflationary demand by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The 15,000 - member brotherhood was asking a 25-cent hourly pay raise.

A spokesman for the brotherhood, largest of the five operating unions representing 210,000 employes in the United States, said its general chairmen were presenting the bargaining position to the 110 Class I railroads.

Other Benefits Sought

Also sought will be fully paid health and welfare plans providing life insurance for each employe with a year's earnings to survivors upon death, also hospital medical and surgical expenses for employes and dependents. The union did not specify how much this would add to its package. The plan would go into effect June 21, the union said.

"We view it as being entirely inflationary and contrary to public policy," said James A. Wolfe, a chief railroad management spokesman in Chicago. A spokesman for the Association of American Railroads said in Washington that the demands were not unexpected.

The Pay Scales

Basic hourly wage scales for trainmen range from $2.85 to $3.12 according to the union.

Spokesmen for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Brtherhood of Locomotive Engineers, both with headquarters in Cleveland, agreed that they all felt an increase is needed, but they said they had no immediate plans to follow the lead of the trainmen on wage and welfare demands.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, at President Kennedy's urging, kept a close watch on the troubled situation. Goldberg summoned labor and management representatives to Washington for a meeting Wednesday in an effort to get talks resumed on work rules. Those negotiations broke off in Chicago last Thursday after sessions lasting six weeks.

Goes Beyond Board

The trainmen's demand goes beyond the 10.2 cents an hour recommended by a presidential fact-

Hercules Strike Ends by 191-116 Vote of Members

By a vote of 191-116 Saturday afternoon, Local 13226, District 50, United Mine Workers of America representing 471 workers, voted to end the three-week strike at Hercules Powder Company, Port Ewen.

The vote was taken at a membership meeting held in Municipal Auditorium, and followed a negotiating session Friday afternoon attended by union representatives and Federal mediators John Wilson, New York City, and Edward Eidt, of Albany.

Both Sides Pleased

D. C. Parker, works manager at Hercules, issued the following statement today:

"I am very much pleased that agreement on a new contract has finally been reached by Local 13226, United Mine Workers of America, District 50, at Hercules. We can now all pull together as a team once more to get back into production."

Local 13226 President John H. Bach, reported the results of the vote this morning. "We hope to operate amicably for the next two years," he said.

Lasted Three Weeks

Bach stated that workers are returning to the Port Ewen plant today and Tuesday, and added "most of them were on the job this morning." He said Saturday's vote ended the work stoppage and the strike which lasted the last three weeks.

On Saturday it was reported that Local 13226 plant employes had resolved the differences in the work contract between Hercules and the local.

Thousands Forced to Turn Back

Escape From Reds Was to No Avail

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China announced today it is ready to accept all refugees from Red China wishing to come to Formosa from overcrowded Hong Kong, where thousands of hungry fugitives are being herded back across the border.

World criticism has rained down on Nationalist China and British authorities in Hong Kong alike because of the human tragedy of hungry Chinese being forced to return to Red China after escaping.

Assailed on All Sides

The United Nations and various countries have contended the refugees should go to Formosa. And the British, who say they simply cannot handle any more refugees, have been assailed on all sides for sending them back behind the Bamboo Curtain.

The Chinese Nationalist Cabinet announced the decision and allocated 1,000 tons of rice for immediate emergency relief for refugees now in Hong Kong.

The government also decided to ask other countries welcoming refugees, such as Brazil, to help handle the tide of refugees.

Nationalist China has taken some of the refugees after careful screening since the influx into Hong Kong began shortly after the Red Chinese conquered the mainland in 1949.

Screening 1,000

The Free China Relief Association agents in Hong Kong are now screening 1,000 refugees for resettlement in Formosa. But taking 1,000 refugees will make hardly a dent in the thousands upon thousands of refugees in Hong Kong.

It may take some time before any substantial numbers of refugees arrive in Formosa.

The government plans security measures to safeguard against any influx of Communist agents trying to come to Formosa in the guise of refugees.

To Expedite Plan

A joint meeting of Chinese Nationalist Interior Ministry officials and the Free China Relief Association decided to expedite plans for reception and resettlement of refugees in Formosa.

The flow is continuing despite efforts of Hong Kong police and British troops to cut if off at the border of Red China.

From 6,000 to 7,000 refugees were rounded up last week end and sent back, reports from Hong Kong said.

$75,000 Damages Voided

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — The New Jersey Supreme Court today voided $75,000 in punitive damages levied against the Thiokol Chemical Corp., for noise and blast generated by its tests of the X15 rocket engine.

However, the court upheld $25,-605 in damages won by 15 homeowners who live in Lake Telemark, Rockaway Township, near the test site of the reaction motors division of Thiokol.

The court vote in the space age case was 7-0.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower called on Republicans today to take a "positive approach" to national issues in a hard-hitting campaign for control of the House in the November election.

Technician Will Not Return to Russia

ZELIENOPLE, Pa. (AP)—Robert Webster, who gave up his American citzenship in the Soviet Union in 1959, has returned home disillusioned and tired but with hopes of undoing "the wrong' I did."

Webster, 33, a former plastic technician in Cleveland, Ohio, arrived at Greater Pittsburgh Airport from New York Sunday night. He rode some 20 miles by taxicab to Zelienople where he went into seclusion at his father's home.

Looking for Work

Webster, who left his wife and two children behind when he defected after going to the Soviet Union in 1959 to set up a Rand Corp. plastics exhibit in Moscow, said he would take any job he can get.

James Rand III, president of the Rand Corp., has said he felt a responsibility for Webster and would attempt to get him a job, though not with Rand's own firm.

Webster, wearing the same blue suit he bought in Cleveland and wore to the U.S.S.R., said he had no immediate plans except that he wanted "to rest a little." He told newsmen he was confused and tired. He also appeared nervous.

In New York he told newsmen he hoped for a reconciliation with his former wife, Martha, who has divorced him. She lives with their children in the Zelienople area where they both grew up.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow said it was informed Webster left behind a Russian girl and her baby in Leningrad when he returned to this country.

Webster said he is in America to stay.

Admits Mistake

"I missed my children and family and wife, of course," he said. "They treated me well in Russia but I don't want to go back."

Webster, who worked as a plastics technician in the Soviet Union with a salary he termed equivalent to $500 a month, said he had made a big mistake and wanted to rectify it.

Webster turned in his passport and renounced his U.S. citizenship in October 1959. Three months later he applied for a permit to re-enter the United States but was refused.

He is here on a Soviet passport which, he said, is for an indefinite period. Webster must seek American citizenship in the same manner as foreign-born immigrants.

Cyrus Roberts Vance Is Named Secretary of Army

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Cyrus Roberts Vance, hard-working general counsel for the Department of Defense, has been named to succeed Elvis J. Stahr Jr. as secretary of the Army.

President Kennedy announced the appointment, subject to Senate confirmation, in New York Sunday. Stahr is resigning as of June 30 to become president of the University of Indiana.

Vance, 45, is a former naval officer and Yale-educated Wall Street attorney. He entered government work in 1957 as special counsel of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, then headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

He is the third Johnson man to hold a secretaryship at the Pentagon. Both former Secretary of the Navy John Connally—whose house Vance recently bought—and Connally's successor, Fred Korth, are Texans and friends of Johnson.

Vance was named general counsel for the Defense Department Jan. 29, 1961. Shortly afterward, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara gave him the additional responsibility for management and organizational planning within the department. His new job pays $22,000 a year.

Among his Pentagon colleagues he has a reputation for a calm, quiet, objective approach to problems, an incisive mind, and long, long hours.

Vance was born in Clarksburg, W. Va., March 27, 1917. He was graduated from the Kent School, and received his bachelor of arts degree in 1939 and law degree in 1942, both from Yale.

Then came four years of naval service, including destroyer duty in both the Atlantic and Pacific. He came out in 1946 as a lieutenant.

He was assistant to the president of the Mead Corp. for a short time then, in 1947, joined the New York law firm of Simpson, Thacher and Bartlett, becoming a partner.

Tall, slender and slightly graying, Vance is a Democrat.

More of Wilderness Land to Be Open For Public, Plan Set for Adirondacks

DIAMOND POINT, N.Y. (AP) —The state conservation commissioner says his department plans to open up more Adirondack wilderness to the public through additional foot trails, lean-tos and boat-launching sites.

The program is to be carried out first in Clinton, Essex and Franklin counties and serve as a pattern for such development in all of the 2.5-million acre preserve in the Adirondacks and Catskills, Commissioner Harold J. Wilm said.

Wilm outlined his plans in a speech Saturday night at the annual spring meeting of the State Conservation Council.

The preserve and the inaccessibility of some of its wilder sections is becoming an increasingly controversial subject in the state. At least two plans have been put forth recently to zone the preserve into various recreational areas—some for popular usage, such as camping and picnicking; some for more rugged activities such as hunting and fishing, and some areas to remain as relatively untouched wilderness.

The Constitution requires that the preserve be kept wild. The zoning plans would require a constitutional amendment.

Although the state has developed some trails, campsites, lean-tos and other facilities in the preserve, some groups contend that its potential as a playland for the masses is being wasted.

Notable among these has been Robert Moses, chairman of the State Council of Parks.

Such proposals have alarmed various conservation groups, which fear that the preserve would be spoiled.

Wilm said some of the most enjoyable areas of the preserve had been shut off from the bulk of the state's population because there was no access. His program, he said, is necessary "to meet the growing demand for public outdoor recreation."

He said the Conservation Department also was considering development of a system of horse-riding trails into the remote preserve areas.

About 150 persons attended the three-day State Conservation Council meeting.

The Adirondack Conservation Council met in conjunction with the state group and passed a resolution urging the Legislature to allow an earlier opening date for the bear-hunting season or to declare an open spring season on bear in parts of the Adirondacks.

The council said some communities in the Adirondack preserve were in danger of being overrun by bears.

Dutch Evacuation In New Guinea Follows Invasion

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP) — Dutch authorities today prepared to evacuate Dutch women and children from this island's western tip following an invasion by 120 Indonesian paratroopers.

Gov. P. J. Platteel announced that 120 women and children would be moved from the town of Teminabuan to the east coast of Vogelkop, the island's westernmost peninsula, and to the nearby isle of Biak.

The announcement gave the first disclosure of the size of the paratroop landing Saturday.

It said some of the paratroopers dropped near Teminabuan have withdrawn under attack and that the Dutch garrison had rushed up reinforcements.

The Dutch said an army unit "launched a rapid aggressive action," killing the Indonesian commander and another parachutist and wounding three. The Dutch said they had no losses.

The Indonesian news agency Antara claimed Indonesian guerrillas had captured the town of Demta, 50 miles west of Hollandia. Antara said heavy fighting continued around Fakfak, south of Vogelkop, and Kaimana, on the south coast. It said Fakfak was under continuous guerrilla harassment and most of its population had been evacuated.

However, AP correspondent Hal McClure reported from Fakfak that life was proceeding there as usual.

Antara claimed 18 Dutch marines were killed last Tuesday in a clash near Fakfak after hundreds of Indonesian paratroopers had been dropped in the area. The story was denied by G. W. J. Van Dyk, chief of the Netherlands Defense Ministry's information department. He said there had been no Dutch losses since the Indonesians began dropping paratroops into West New Guinea three weeks ago.

President Sukarno told cheering crowds in Jakarta Sunday night Indonesia is ready to meet force with force if the Dutch want to settle the West New Guinea dispute by arms.

Tried Same Path?

PARIS (AP) — A French vice admiral today told the court trying ex-Gen. Raoul Salan for treason he is convinced Salan was trying to follow the same path Gen. Charles de Gaulle followed in 1940.

Vice Adm. Andre Ploix, a former commander of naval air forces in Algeria, refrained from approving Salan's action in leading the terrorist Secret Army Organization in Algeria. But he said he could understand the moves of anyone who went underground to honor previous promises to keep Algeria under the French flag.

Former Resident Receives Award At Poughkeepsie

The annual civic award presented by Lafayette Post, American Legion of Poughkeepsie, was recently presented to Mrs. Martha Reifler Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gold of 76 Lounsbery Place, Kingston.

Mrs. Myers, the former Martha Gold, in accepting the award said, "I accept this award in the name of all the people who worked with me in various local activities. None of what I've accomplished could have been done except for the good professional help I got."

Attorney Samuel R. Rosen, in presenting the award to Mrs. Myers, said she won a Phi Beta Kappa at Cornell University, and listed her local activities with the Parent-Teacher association, Vassar Temple Sisterhood, Board of Education, Community Chest, American Association of University Women, and the board of trustees at Vassar Hospital. He also noted that she had worked for the formation of Dutchess Community College, and a separate Children's court as a member of committees appointed by the Board of Supervisors.

Dutchess County Judge Schwartz, master of ceremonies, termed Mrs. Myers a leader "who knows where she is going and has the quality to take other people with her."

Places for Children

Editor, The Freeman:

Kindly allow me space in your most valuable paper to state my views on an incident that happened on Thursday evening. While sitting on my front porch, I observed a number of teen age boys and girls enjoying themselves playing ball in the yard of school number six. It is very evident, that someone called the police department as a police car drove up and the officer ordered these children out of the school yard. After the officer left the scene, the children then began playing ball in the street and then a second complaint must have been entered as a police car arrived for the second time and stopped the children from playing in the street. It is regretable to think that people forget that everyone was a child and no doubt did the same things in their younger years. It is also regretable that such people fail to work with the younger generation instead of calling the police department and taking police officers away from other police duties. They talk of juvenile delinquents, in my estimation, this is one good example of why we have juvenile delinquents. I am sure that such people could find numerous societies to work with, that has the interest of the children at heart, instead of always complaining about them playing innocent games.

As an independent voter in this second ward it is my personal belief, that a place could be provided in this ward for a place where the children could go to spend their idle hours in some good healthy recreation. How about our Supervisor and Alderman giving some thought and consideration to the proposition of trying to furnish a location whereby the children of this ward could go and enjoy their recreation without the fear of being stopped by people who cannot stand to see children enjoy themselves.

One who has an interest in children. Thank you.

India Discussed At Paltz College

"If we can build up our country in a manner consistent with Democracy, we will have assisted in that same struggle in many other countries in the matter of community development and cooperation for the government of India," S. K. Dea told more than 100 members of the International Relations Association Saturday night at State University College of Education, New Paltz.

Dea arrived by plane from India Saturday afternoon and went to New Paltz to address the College and International service students at the college representing 20 countries in the Free World, and faculty members and guests.

The speaker explained that more than 80 per cent of the people in India live in 55,800 villages and the problem of reconstruction goes back an era.

Pointing out that India's economy is based on organization, he said, and the first object is development of agriculture. The speaker stated that development of roads must be undertaken to get agricultural products to the market, and a health program is important so that workers will be able to work.

Dea further explained the reconstruction plan involves building of a corporate organization in each village.

"By October 1963," Dea said, "we will have an extension block for every 70,000 persons and will have a person similar to the county agent in the United States for every 10 villages. The picture in India today," he concluded, "involves the building of a political economy and leadership consistent with Democracy."

Dea was introduced by Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college. Master of ceremonies was Mathew Zacharias, a student from India who was recently elected president of the International Relations Association.

Dea came to the United States to participate in a conference on World Development at the University of Michigan and attend several meetings at United Nations. It was his first visit to this country in 30 years.

Dea received his bachelor's degree at the University of Michigan and his master's degree at Purdue University.

Own Directory To Be Published By Local C of C

A classified membership directory will be published by Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce as a direct service to members.

The directory will be distributed to answer all of the many requests which are received at the Chamber office for all kinds of goods and services.

In making this decision as authorized by the board of directors, a strict procedure will also be followed as far as payment of annual dues is concerned. Unless the dues are paid within 60 days after the due date which is May 1, or special arrangements made to pay later, the listing will not be included in the directory.

The board of directors will also propose an amendment to the by-laws spelling out more specifically when Chamber membership will be forfeited. There is a possibility that this amendment will be considered and voted upon at the next Community Breakfast scheduled for June 6.

These decisions have been made because the annual income for the year must be known before the final budget can be adopted. Chamber President Sam Pepper stated that it must be known how much money can be allotted to promotional activities and programs recommended by various committees. Sufficient income is in sight for fixed overhead but limited funds, over these requirements, have hampered many of the projects which should be carried on for the benefit of everybody in this area. Pepper concluded by saying, "We should spend much more money working for industrial expansion but to date limited funds have made it impossible. It's difficult to meet the keen competition from all parts of the country without funds to support an aggressive program of action."

Dutch Evacuation In New Guinea Follows Invasion

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP) — Dutch authorities today prepared to evacuate Dutch women and children from this island's western tip following an invasion by 120 Indonesian paratroopers.

Gov. P. J. Platteel announced that 120 women and children would be moved from the town of Teminabuan to the east coast of Vogelkop, the island's westernmost peninsula, and to the nearby isle of Biak.

The announcement gave the first disclosure of the size of the paratroop landing Saturday.

It said some of the paratroopers dropped near Teminabuan have withdrawn under attack and that the Dutch garrison had rushed up reinforcements.

The Dutch said an army unit "launched a rapid aggressive action," killing the Indonesian commander and another parachutist and wounding three. The Dutch said they had no losses.

The Indonesian news agency Antara claimed Indonesian guerrillas had captured the town of Demta, 50 miles west of Hollandia. Antara said heavy fighting continued around Fakfak, south of Vogelkop, and Kaimana, on the south coast. It said Fakfak was under continuous guerrilla harassment and most of its population had been evacuated.

However, AP correspondent Hal McClure reported from Fakfak that life was proceeding there as usual.

Antara claimed 18 Dutch marines were killed last Tuesday in a clash near Fakfak after hundreds of Indonesian paratroopers had been dropped in the area. The story was denied by G. W. J. Van Dyk, chief of the Netherlands Defense Ministry's information department. He said there had been no Dutch losses since the Indonesians began dropping paratroops into West New Guinea three weeks ago.

President Sukarno told cheering crowds in Jakarta Sunday night Indonesia is ready to meet force with force if the Dutch want to settle the West New Guinea dispute by arms.

Tried Same Path?

PARIS (AP) — A French vice admiral today told the court trying ex-Gen. Raoul Salan for treason he is convinced Salan was trying to follow the same path Gen. Charles de Gaulle followed in 1940.

Vice Adm. Andre Ploix, a former commander of naval air forces in Algeria, refrained from approving Salan's action in leading the terrorist Secret Army Organization in Algeria. But he said he could understand the moves of anyone who went underground to honor previous promises to keep Algeria under the French flag.

Former Resident Receives Award At Poughkeepsie

The annual civic award presented by Lafayette Post, American Legion of Poughkeepsie, was recently presented to Mrs. Martha Reifler Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gold of 76 Lounsbery Place, Kingston.

Mrs. Myers, the former Martha Gold, in accepting the award said, "I accept this award in the name of all the people who worked with me in various local activities. None of what I've accomplished could have been done except for the good professional help I got."

Attorney Samuel R. Rosen, in presenting the award to Mrs. Myers, said she won a Phi Beta Kappa at Cornell University, and listed her local activities with the Parent-Teacher association, Vassar Temple Sisterhood, Board of Education, Community Chest, American Association of University Women, and the board of trustees at Vassar Hospital. He also noted that she had worked for the formation of Dutchess Community College, and a separate Children's court as a member of committees appointed by the Board of Supervisors.

Dutchess County Judge Schwartz, master of ceremonies, termed Mrs. Myers a leader "who knows where she is going and has the quality to take other people with her."

Places for Children

Editor, The Freeman:

Kindly allow me space in your most valuable paper to state my views on an incident that happened on Thursday evening. While sitting on my front porch, I observed a number of teen age boys and girls enjoying themselves playing ball in the yard of school number six. It is very evident, that someone called the police department as a police car drove up and the officer ordered these children out of the school yard. After the officer left the scene, the children then began playing ball in the street and then a second complaint must have been entered as a police car arrived for the second time and stopped the children from playing in the street. It is regretable to think that people forget that everyone was a child and no doubt did the same things in their younger years. It is also regretable that such people fail to work with the younger generation instead of calling the police department and taking police officers away from other police duties. They talk of juvenile delinquents, in my estimation, this is one good example of why we have juvenile delinquents. I am sure that such people could find numerous societies to work with, that has the interest of the children at heart, instead of always complaining about them playing innocent games.

As an independent voter in this second ward it is my personal belief, that a place could be provided in this ward for a place where the children could go to spend their idle hours in some good healthy recreation. How about our Supervisor and Alderman giving some thought and consideration to the proposition of trying to furnish a location whereby the children of this ward could go and enjoy their recreation without the fear of being stopped by people who cannot stand to see children enjoy themselves.

One who has an interest in children. Thank you.

India Discussed At Paltz College

"If we can build up our country in a manner consistent with Democracy, we will have assisted in that same struggle in many other countries in the matter of community development and cooperation for the government of India," S. K. Dea told more than 100 members of the International Relations Association Saturday night at State University College of Education, New Paltz.

Dea arrived by plane from India Saturday afternoon and went to New Paltz to address the College and International service students at the college representing 20 countries in the Free World, and faculty members and guests.

The speaker explained that more than 80 per cent of the people in India live in 55,800 villages and the problem of reconstruction goes back an era.

Pointing out that India's economy is based on organization, he said, and the first object is development of agriculture. The speaker stated that development of roads must be undertaken to get agricultural products to the market, and a health program is important so that workers will be able to work.

Dea further explained the reconstruction plan involves building of a corporate organization in each village.

"By October 1963," Dea said, "we will have an extension block for every 70,000 persons and will have a person similar to the county agent in the United States for every 10 villages. The picture in India today," he concluded, "involves the building of a political economy and leadership consistent with Democracy."

Dea was introduced by Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college. Master of ceremonies was Mathew Zacharias, a student from India who was recently elected president of the International Relations Association.

Dea came to the United States to participate in a conference on World Development at the University of Michigan and attend several meetings at United Nations. It was his first visit to this country in 30 years.

Dea received his bachelor's degree at the University of Michigan and his master's degree at Purdue University.

Own Directory To Be Published By Local C of C

A classified membership directory will be published by Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce as a direct service to members.

The directory will be distributed to answer all of the many requests which are received at the Chamber office for all kinds of goods and services.

In making this decision as authorized by the board of directors, a strict procedure will also be followed as far as payment of annual dues is concerned. Unless the dues are paid within 60 days after the due date which is May 1, or special arrangements made to pay later, the listing will not be included in the directory.

The board of directors will also propose an amendment to the bylaws spelling out more specifically when Chamber membership will be forfeited. There is a possibility that this amendment will be considered and voted upon at the next Community Breakfast scheduled for June 6.

These decisions have been made because the annual income for the year must be known before the final budget can be adopted. Chamber President Sam Pepper stated that it must be known how much money can be allotted to promotional activities and programs recommended by various committees. Sufficient income is in sight for fixed overhead but limited funds, over these requirements, have hampered many of the projects which should be carried on for the benefit of everybody in this area. Pepper concluded by saying, "We should spend much more money working for industrial expansion but to date limited funds have made it impossible. It's difficult to meet the keen competition from all parts of the country without funds to support an aggressive program of action."

Franco Is Victor In Coal Strike

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government appears to have ended the Asturias coal miners' strikes with promises of better pay.

Labor experts said the settlement could lead to a wave of work stoppages in demands for more money elsewhere.

Labor officials in Oviedo, in the heart of the Asturias coal fields, reported the bulk of the striking after Minister Jose Solis Ruiz, chief of the Spanish Syndicates, promised them more money.

Indigency Index Need Is Outlined By State Official

Washington—The Federal government should establish an Index of Indigency and publish it periodically along with other standard economy indicators, Dr. David M. Schneider, director of research and statics for the State Department of Social Welfare, told the Conference of Research and Statistical Personnel of State Public Welfare Agencies here today.

He said that such an index would help to meet the problems of public dependency and near-dependency by publicizing these conditions; by indentifying the groups in the population who are not now benefiting from our growing economy; by pin-pointing the kinds of services that are needed to meet their immediate needs; and by outlining the dimensions and nature of long-range actions that must be taken to make these groups self-sustaining by providing them with opportunities to participate in America's developing economy.

"Many millions, including those on public assistance rolls, do not improve their economic and social position with the rise in national income and productivity," Dr. Schneider explained. "In fact, many productive workers are sliding down the economic scale and will soon be joining those in the poverty class. A number of them, instead of sharing in the benefits of the new technology, are victims of it. Others are the victims of the mobility of industry, for, with the removal of industry, whole communities are sometimes condemned to deterioration."

In discussing public welfare costs, he said that enough research has been completed and enough information is at hand for legislators to take immediate action to reduce public assistance caseloads and costs. He recommended such action as provision of medical care under Social Security; extension of Social Security to groups still not covered; better enforcement of the Social Security Act; more realistic minimum wage laws; and improved temporary disability insurance.

Long range planning needed to America's burden of indigency should involve the following factors, Dr. Schneider said: bringing up-to-date lagging social legislation to improve protection of low-income families against the hazards of sickness, accidents, and unemployment; improving the living and working conditions of the migratory farm-worker groups; eliminating the multiple social and economic threats of deteriorating neighborhoods and bad housing; combating racial discrimination in employment and business; meeting the problems of mobility of industry and technological unemployment that create whole new pockets of poverty; dealing with problems that result from alcoholism and drug addiction; and providing special training for school dropouts.

Denies Film on Prophet

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—The Italian Embassy denied today that an Italian film company is planning a film on the life of Mohammed, prophet of Islam.

A press release said, "No film of this kind is being produced by any Italian company, nor has the Italian government been approached by any Italian film company, as is prescribed in Italian law, that it intends to start production of such a film."

Friday, thousands of Moslems paraded the streets of Peshawar demanding that the government of Pakistan halt such production.

Demonstrators also stoned and damaged the American consulate there under the mistaken impression that the supposed film production was a joint venture of Italian and American film companies.

HOW'S THE FISHING?

Have you wet a line in your favorite lake or stream this spring? Smokey hopes you have and found the fishing just as good as you remembered it!

But all over America, fishermen are going to get skunked in places where they always found fish before.

If the water's high and muddy, chances are that a forest fire upstream burned off the ground cover. The spring rains ran right off, carrying top soil and flood waters into the stream, spoiling your sport.

CHATTER IN THE SKY

One of the joys of flying has always been the realization that no one could reach you by phone. This precious, though brief, isolation is soon to be ended. The Federal Communications Commission has given the Bell System permission to build five antenna stations and start ground-to-air telephone service.

Business tycoons may welcome this means of keeping an even tighter hold on the reins. Lesser mortals may find telephony aloft amusing. There will be a few sensitive conversational areas, of course Airlines will prefer your not using such phrases as "crashing bore" and "we'll drop in on you later."

A few tips in advance: When flying west, wait until you cross a time zone before asking the operator for time and charges. When traveling first class, don't let them talk you into installing a princess phone at your seat in colors to match your outfit. If you paid tourist fare, you won't have to worry about that; you'll be given a party line or a telephone with an automatic busy signal.

The novelty of telephoning in flight will be attractive at first. But before long, watch for airlines advertising flights with unlisted numbers. Also watch for bad jokes. Can't you just hear the stewardess murmuring into the telephone, "I'm sorry, but Mr. Smith has stepped outside for a few minutes"?

ON GETTING AND BEING

It is one of the minor tragedies of the human condition that being up early involves getting up early. Being up in time to hear the first morning cadenzas of birdsong and see the world made new again in the dawn light is delightful. Climbing out of bed to savor this experience can be pure torture.

Once up, once dressed and washed and brushed and perhaps even coffeed, the pain of rising vanishes. One steps out into the open, and it is as though the world had indeed just been created. The air is never again as delicately fragrant as at dawn; the birds never sing as charmingly at any other time of the day; there is a special quality about the light, a quality not seen at any other hour.

One of the popular songs of World War I was the ditty whose immortal words began, "Oh how I hate to get up in the morning." The poet who set down that phrase knew what he was talking about. But he should have written another song about the pleasures of being up early once the getting up is over with.

THE DEEPER BLAME

Four high school boys, riding in a car that belonged to the father of one of them, sped over the crest of a sharp hill on a four-lane highway near Memphis. Rocketing at a speed said by a highway patrolman to have been more than 100 miles an hour, the car went out of control and crushed the four occupants to death.

The officers and ambulance men said it was the worst wreck they had ever seen. They said the driver had evidently slammed on the brakes, whereupon the car went out of control and crashed into the side of a truck. It took hours to establish the identity of the four crumpled bodies.

Who was to blame in this tragedy that snuffed out the lives of four boys at 2:30 a. m.? Why were they at this spot 30 miles from home at such an hour? The driver was partly to blame; so were his companions if, as seems likely, they urged him on.

But the blame, in such cases, generally goes deeper. Without knowing exactly what the circumstnces were in this instance, one can suggest that the tragedy in which those four boys played the grim leading roles was like many another. Often parental indulgence, or at any rate too little parental supervision, must share the blame. Nor is society as a whole blameless, since it permits school age children to drive cars with scarcely any special restriction. Who was to blame for those four deaths? To some extent, all of us were.

THE NAME IS FARLEY

All sorts of Democratic persons in New York State offer themselves as candidates for the Governorship. It is a good year to run because Democrats believe that there is a chance that Governor Rockefeller can be defeated.

Unfortunately most of the names thus far mentioned are nondescript from a political standpoint. If one candidate is popularly known in his own particular bailiwick, he is not known elsewhere. An aspirant must fill all the provisions of a formula that fits New York State. He must:

1. Have a following among the more conservative Democrats upstate;
2. Be acceptable to the Reform Democrats of New York City;
3. Be acceptable to the Liberal Party;
4. Have such a reputation that he will draw away Republican votes from Rockefeller;
5. Be acceptable to the Kennedy Administration and to Mayor Wagner who is the virtual leader of the Democratic Party in New York.

The man who fits this bill is silent. He will not say Yes! and he will not say No! He does not need the job, as he has one that pays more and gives him a chance to travel throughout the world. He manages to attend public luncheons and dinners every day. The name is James A. Farley, familiarly known as Big Jim. To those who still remember it, he was responsible for Franklin D. Roosevelt becoming President of the United States and he served as Postmaster General. He broke with Roosevelt over the Third Term and the American people endorsed his view by passing the 22nd Amendment to the Constitution.

Farley is obviously popular, not because he is neutral or all things to all men, but because he is an independent person who turns out to be right generally. The only objection I have heard to the candidacy of Big Jim is that he is old, 74 years old. In our modern world, age is not a matter of years but of arteries and ulcers and such matters. Farley possesses the stamina of a man in his 50's.

If this description of the man seems excessively enthusiastic, biased, partial, I can only admit that the description is correct. And that is one reason why I believe that Farley can be elected. So many Republicans believe that if Farley ran against Rockefeller, they would vote for Farley and many Democrats say that they will not vote for the other names mentioned either for factional reasons, or because the persons mentioned have insufficient stature to warrant running.

The story goes the rounds that Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., is a candidate for the office of Governor. He has actually not lived in New York State for a number of years. He has lived in Washington, D. C., where he is in the automobile sales business. Even when he ran for Congress, his address, at one time, was the up-town Esplanade Hotel where he had a room. It was obviously a makeshift address.

It is doubtful that Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., can fit all the conditions stated above. Certainly he would draw no Republican votes from Nelson Rockefeller. While he bears his father's name, which means much in New York City, it is clear that that name is a liability so far as Republicans and many independent voters are concerned.

New York State has about 17,000,000 persons, which is equivalent to the population of the whole of Canada. The population is very mixed: there are many large cities and many rural areas; the racial complex is Italian, Irish, German, Negro, Puerto Rican, Jewish, variously Slavic, with a large Protestant Anglo-Saxon and Dutch rural and suburban voting element. The strongest religious group, from a political standpoint, is the Roman Catholic.

Bloc voting is not unusual in New York State and a candidate must have, not an appeal to all groups, but surely no basic antagonism. The Italo-Americans, most of whom are Democrats, regard themselves as having been discriminated against politically and they will have to be given consideration but like all groups which mature in this country and are on the verge of assimilation, they would not want candidates of their nationality to be persons of less significance than others on the ticket. They would want a top-notch personality. The Italo-Americans probably constitute the largest voting group in the State.

This is the present situation. It could change, of course.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Kennedy's inaugural address appeal to the Soviet Union "to begin anew the quest for peace" is under serious challenge today as a result of Russian obstructions on nearly every front since January 1961.

IN LAOS, EFFORTS to set up a neutralist government have been thwarted by repeated violations of a cease-fire agreement. Russia, Red China and North Viet Nam have used the period to supply and build up Pathet Lao forces for a drive to take over the whole country.

While there is still hope in high State Department and Pentagon circles that Laos may yet be saved, a setback there would be worse than any the Kennedy administration has sustained since Cuba. This would point up only too clearly the hopelessness of ever trying to cooperate with Communists.

Other examples include the southwest Pacific, where United States efforts to find a peaceful solution for the Netherlands-Indonesia dispute over western New Guinea is endangered by President Sukarno's appeal to Russia for arms.

Similarly, it is to Russia that India is reported looking for arms aid to build up its frontier forces.

American efforts to negotiate with the Russians on Berlin are received by West Germany's President Heinrich Lubke with the comment, "Let a thaw in the cold war begin in Soviet-ruled Germany," intimating that the Western powers have already yielded enough or too much.

At Geneva, the talks on disarmament and a nuclear test ban go around in circles without getting anyplace.

SIXTEEN MONTHS AGO, however, when the President took his oath of office, he was full of high hopes that this new approach to the Russians would bring results.

He recognized at the time that, "We dare not tempt them with weakness." United States defense forces were therefore built up.

The President also recognized realistically that cooperation with the Russians "will not be finished in the first 100 days, the first 1,000 days, nor in the lifetime of this administration, nor in our lifetime on this planet.

"But," he urged again, "Let us begin."

ON THE POSITIVE SIDE, it is now pointed out that there is a new cultural exchange agreement with the Rusians. Talks on co-operation in outer space have been started. The deadline on settlement of the Berlin crisis have been removed.

President Kennedy and Chairman Khrushchev agreed in their first and only meeting, in Vienna a year ago, that there should be a neutralist Laos under a coalition government of Communist, anti-Communist and neutralist elements.

This was presented as the only solution avoiding a war that the West could not win because the Laotion people did not have the will to fight for their own freedom.

(Recognition of the necessity for a cease fire and creation of a coalition Laotion government was reaffirmed by Soviet Amb. Anatoly Dobrynin in a conference with Secretary Rusk on the same day President Kennedy announced the Thai buildup.)

Administration critics, remembering the futility of trying to set up a coalition government of Communists and Nationalists in mainland China after World War II, predicted there would be no better luck in Laos.

Still the administration went ahead on its policy. It even withdrew American aid for the loyalist government, the only anti-Communist element in Laos, to force it into a coalition it had fortitude enough to oppose.

ONE OF THE GREATEST MYSTERIES, in American policy toward Laos is that it had the support of Assistant Secretary of State for Southeast Asia, ex-Gov. Averell Harriman. As wartime ambassador to Moscow, he was one of the first Americans to recognize that cooperation and collaboration with the Communists were impossible.

The only explanation given for Harriman's support of the Kennedy policy on Laos was that the President wanted a peaceful solution of the Laotian problem. As his roving ambassador to the Geneva conference on Laos in 1961, Harriman gave it his best try.

Byrd's Argument Against Dividend Tax Witholding

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

A Democratic Senator who has spent the major part of his career of nearly 30 years in Congress studying taxes and finance has come out against two important provisions of the Kennedy administration's tax bill—the withholding of taxes on dividends and interest and the proposed 7 or 8 per cent credit of new machinery and equipment.

The Senator is Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, chairman of the Finance Committee, which has just finished comprehensive hearings on the bill.

Over the weekend, the position taken by Sen. Byrd was briefly reported. But the exact words he used in announcing his differences with President Kennedy are significant and worthy of careful examination by both sides in the controversary. He said:

"I oppose enactment of the withholding proposal at this time for numerous reasons including:

"1. Withholding taxes on interest and dividends cannot be compared with withholding taxes on salaries and wages. Its administration would be terribly complex, if not impracticable and unworkable.

2. It would, by its inherent deficiencies, overtax people for extended periods and impose hardship or inconvenience not only on taxpaying citizens, but also on institutions and businesses used by the government to collect the taxes.

"3. Respect for our tax system must be maintained. It is necessarily complex enough. Unnecessary confusion must be avoided. The agitating characteristics of this proposal are already clear from public reaction. Tax evasion cannot be condoned, but this withholding proposal should be enacted only as a last resort.

"4. An alternative is available, and it should first be given full trial. The Internal Revenue Service is now assigning numbers to taxpayers to eliminate identification difficulties, and at the same time it is installing computers to show currently what taxpayers owe the government and vice versa. This combination should and will provide information for effective curtailment of tax evasion."

The Way Many Feel

Now, the foregoing is directly opposite some of the statements made by President Kennedy at his press conferences recently, but it does represent a rapidly developing sentiment among members of both parties in the Senate.

The Administration has stressed the fact that some people evade taxes, but it has ignored the practical difficulties that face those honest citizens who would be unlawfully deprived of the use of their income that is really not due as taxes, but would be withheld by corporations and savings banks as a result of new laws compelling such steps. It is the problem of "overwithholding" that really has caused the furor. Likewise, the alternative plan of helping tax collection through a wider system of informational reporting to the government of payments of interest and dividends would seem to be adequate for the Treasury's purpose.

What is perhaps just as significant in Sen. Byrd's remarkable statement is his argument against the so-called incentive credit to which the Administration has pointed as an example of its friendliness toward business.

The Virginia Senator says he opposes the incentive credit also "for numerous reasons," including the following:

"1. It is wrong in principal. It is in the nature of a government payment before the fact instead of a credit for an accomplished fact.

"2. It is a subsidy in the nature of a windfall to be given to businesses which comply with a government policy.

"3. It is discriminatory in its application among various businesses, even among those similar in kind. Incentive is a stated purpose of the proposal, but it would be retroactive to last Jan. 1, and it is difficult to understand how the provisions would be an incentive for investments made before it is enacted. It would be a bonanza for certain corporations which would reach $600 million.

4. An alternative is available. The government has the authority, and belatedly is now taking action to modernize Internal Revenue regulations to provide realistic depreciation credit for plant and equipment."

Despite all the talk of what the investment credit plan would do, Sen. Byrd points out that a recent Mc-Graw-Hill survey found the investment credit would boost investments by only about 1 per cent, or $300 million. There would be windfalls by which some corporations would gain a great deal. While U. S. Steel Corp., for instance, might get a credit of from $5 to $6 million, a different company in another field might receive a $350 million credit in a single year. This is why the measure is attacked as "discriminatory."

Most business men also would prefer a permanent system and not a plan that can at any time be revoked, since it is designed primarily as an anti-recession measure. The managers of America's enterprises like to plan their expansion or modernization over a five or 10-year period. The viewpoint expressed by Sen. Byrd is unquestionably upheld by the business world today.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Department of Justice, under Attorney General Robert Kennedy, has important documents taken from the offices of Billie Sol Estes, of Pecos, Tex., a spectulator and manipulator in fertilizer, fertilizer tanks, land, crop allotments and subsidized grain storage. Estes has been indicted by a Federal grand jury on many charges of fraud, but only in chattel mortgages on tanks. Friends of Estes have said that he showed them a gold card from the Democratic National Committee indicating that he had given $100,000 to the Party.

In the present situation, there was irregular practice between Billie Sol and agents of the Department of Agriculture including gifts comparable to the notorious vicuna coat in the Sherman Adams scandal of the Eisenhower Administration. The conflict of interest is the more dramatic because an important official of the Department of Agriculture was shot dead in a field near Bryan, Tex., while many dubious dealings of politicians were on his desk for investigation.

The victim was Henry H. Marshall. He had been shot in the abdomen five times by a .22 calibre bolt action rifle. The local Justice of the Peace said it would continue to be a suicide until "we get some new evidence to the countrary." Marshall was employed by the Federal Department of Agriculture to supervise cotton acreage allotments. He was suspicious of applications by Estes for such allotments. The sale of allotments is illegal, but Estes had hit upon a questionable device of lending on acres covered by allotments and foreclosing the mortgages.

Will Wilson, the Attorney General of Texas, told me he does not believe a man could shoot himself five times with a bolt-action gun. There was no autopsy and the usual police practice of fingerprinting the gun was ignored. Although many of Estes' applications for allotments had accumulated in Marshall's office, the U. S. Department of Agriculture did not ask for Federal investigators until a month after his death.

John Tower, the Texas Republican Senator, has charged that Estes was appointed to the National Cotton Advisory Committee in 1961 after some of his gifts to the Democratic Party. Tower had demanded an investigation of the conduct of James T. Ralph, former assistant Secretary of Agriculture, but then Ralph was dismissed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

Ralph and Estes have been hearty, intimate associates in Estes' grandiose plans. In correspondence, Estes reflected a dream of rustbucket argosies of surplus American wartime freighters carrying subsidized surplus American wheat to India and other mendicant countries with generous profit for Billie Sol.

Ralph meanwhile had been identified by clerks of the Neiman-Marcus store in Dallas, who said he came in with Estes and that they fitted him with expensive clothing which Estes paid for in currency. However, the clothing was shipped to Estes at a hotel in Washington where he stopped a few times. He was not in residence when the clothing arrived and there is no record to show who got it. Ralph denied that he ever received any of it.

Ralph did write a rapturous greeting to Estes's new daily paper, the Pecos Daily News, when it began publication last July. Ralph soared into space to project a future for the paper and Sol's fine ideals. The cost of running the News has been from $10,000 to $12,000 a month to date.

Secretary of Agriculture Freeman was one of two consecutive Governors of Minnesota who called out the National Guard to quell rioting at packing plants struck by the CIO, and imposed on these American soldiers the duty of doing picket service for an insurrectionary force. They simply closed the plants, which was the very purpose of the unions in rioting around the doors.

The other Governor was Luther Youngdahl. President Eisenhower rewarded him with a life job on the U. S. Court for the District of Columbia at the highest salary he has ever received.

CHATTER IN THE SKY

One of the joys of flying has always been the realization that no one could reach you by phone. This precious, though brief, isolation is soon to be ended. The Federal Communications Commission has given the Bell System permission to build five antenna stations and start ground-to-air telephone service.

Business tycoons may welcome this means of keeping an even tighter hold on the reins. Lesser mortals may find telephony aloft amusing. There will be a few sensitive conversational areas, of course Airlines will prefer your not using such phrases as "crashing bore" and "we'll drop in on you later."

A few tips in advance: When flying west, wait until you cross a time zone before asking the operator for time and charges. When traveling first class, don't let them talk you into installing a princess phone at your seat in colors to match your outfit. If you paid tourist fare, you won't have to worry about that; you'll be given a party line or a telephone with an automatic busy signal.

The novelty of telephoning in flight will be attractive at first. But before long, watch for airlines advertising flights with unlisted numbers. Also watch for bad jokes. Can't you just hear the stewardess murmuring into the telephone, "I'm sorry, but Mr. Smith has stepped outside for a few minutes"?

ON GETTING AND BEING

It is one of the minor tragedies of the human condition that being up early involves getting up early. Being up in time to hear the first morning cadenzas of birdsong and see the world made new again in the dawn light is delightful. Climbing out of bed to savor this experience can be pure torture.

Once up, once dressed and washed and brushed and perhaps even coffeed, the pain of rising vanishes. One steps out into the open, and it is as though the world had indeed just been created. The air is never again as delicately fragrant as at dawn; the birds never sing as charmingly at any other time of the day; there is a special quality about the light, a quality not seen at any other hour.

One of the popular songs of World War I was the ditty whose immortal words began, "Oh how I hate to get up in the morning." The poet who set down that phrase knew what he was talking about. But he should have written another song about the pleasures of being up early once the getting up is over with.

THE DEEPER BLAME

Four high school boys, riding in a car that belonged to the father of one of them, sped over the crest of a sharp hill on a four-lane highway near Memphis. Rocketing at a speed said by a highway patrolman to have been more than 100 miles an hour, the car went out of control and crushed the four occupants to death.

The officers and ambulance men said it was the worst wreck they had ever seen. They said the driver had evidently slammed on the brakes, whereupon the car went out of control and crashed into the side of a truck. It took hours to establish the identity of the four crumpled bodies.

Who was to blame in this tragedy that snuffed out the lives of four boys at 2:30 a. m.? Why were they at this spot 30 miles from home at such an hour? The driver was partly to blame; so were his companions if, as seems likely, they urged him on.

But the blame, in such cases, generally goes deeper. Without knowing exactly what the circumstnces were in this instance, one can suggest that the tragedy in which those four boys played the grim leading roles was like many another. Often parental indulgence, or at any rate too little parental supervision, must share the blame. Nor is society as a whole blameless, since it permits school age children to drive cars with scarcely any special restriction. Who was to blame for those four deaths? To some extent, all of us were.

ONE OF THE GREATEST MYSTERIES, in American policy toward Laos is that it had the support of Assistant Secretary of State for Southeast Asia, ex-Gov. Averell Harriman. As wartime ambassador to Moscow, he was one of the first Americans to recognize that cooperation and collaboration with the Communists were impossible.

The only explanation given for Harriman's support of the Kennedy policy on Laos was that the President wanted a peaceful solution of the Laotian problem. As his roving ambassador to the Geneva conference on Laos in 1961, Harriman gave it his best try.

Byrd's Argument Against Dividend Tax Witholding

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

A Democratic Senator who has spent the major part of his career of nearly 30 years in Congress studying taxes and finance has come out against two important provisions of the Kennedy administration's tax bill—the withholding of taxes on dividends and interest and the proposed 7 or 8 per cent credit of new machinery and equipment.

The Senator is Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, chairman of the Finance Committee, which has just finished comprehensive hearings on the bill.

Over the weekend, the position taken by Sen. Byrd was briefly reported. But the exact words he used in announcing his differences with President Kennedy are significant and worthy of careful examination by both sides in the controversary. He said:

"I oppose enactment of the withholding proposal at this time for numerous reasons including:

"1. Withholding taxes on interest and dividends cannot be compared with withholding taxes on salaries and wages. Its administration would be terribly complex, if not impracticable and unworkable.

2. It would, by its inherent deficiencies, overtax people for extended periods and impose hardship or inconvenience not only on taxpaying citizens, but also on institutions and businesses used by the government to collect the taxes.

"3. Respect for our tax system must be maintained. It is necessarily complex enough. Unnecessary confusion must be avoided. The agitating characteristics of this proposal are already clear from public reaction. Tax evasion cannot be condoned, but this withholding proposal should be enacted only as a last resort.

"4. An alternative is available, and it should first be given full trial. The Internal Revenue Service is now assigning numbers to taxpayers to eliminate identification difficulties, and at the same time it is installing computers to show currently what taxpayers owe the government and vice versa. This combination should and will provide information for effective curtailment of tax evasion."

The Way Many Feel

Now, the foregoing is directly opposite some of the statements made by President Kennedy at his press conferences recently, but it does represent a rapidly developing sentiment among members of both parties in the Senate.

The Administration has stressed the fact that some people evade taxes, but it has ignored the practical difficulties that face those honest citizens who would be unlawfully deprived of the use of their income that is really not due as taxes, but would be withheld by corporations and savings banks as a result of new laws compelling such steps. It is the problem of "overwithholding" that really has caused the furor. Likewise, the alternative plan of helping tax collection through a wider system of informational reporting to the government of payments of interest and dividends would seem to be adequate for the Treasury's purpose.

What is perhaps just as significant in Sen. Byrd's remarkable statement is his argument against the so-called incentive credit to which the Administration has pointed as an example of its friendliness toward business.

The Virginia Senator says he opposes the incentive credit also "for numerous reasons," including the following:

"1. It is wrong in principal. It is in the nature of a government payment before the fact instead of a credit for an accomplished fact.

"2. It is a subsidy in the nature of a windfall to be given to businesses which comply with a government policy.

"3. It is discriminatory in its application among various businesses, even among those similar in kind. Incentive is a stated purpose of the proposal, but it would be retroactive to last Jan. 1, and it is difficult to understand how the provisions would be an incentive for investments made before it is enacted. It would be a bonanza for certain corporations which would reach $600 million.

4. An alternative is available. The government has the authority, and belatedly is now taking action to modernize Internal Revenue regulations to provide realistic depreciation credit for plant and equipment."

Despite all the talk of what the investment credit plan would do, Sen. Byrd points out that a recent Mc-Graw-Hill survey found the investment credit would boost investments by only about 1 per cent, or $300 million. There would be windfalls by which some corporations would gain a great deal. While U. S. Steel Corp., for instance, might get a credit of from $5 to $6 million, a different company in another field might receive a $350 million credit in a single year. This is why the measure is attacked as "discriminatory."

Most business men also would prefer a permanent system and not a plan that can at any time be revoked, since it is designed primarily as an anti-recession measure. The managers of America's enterprises like to plan their expansion or modernization over a five or 10-year period. The viewpoint expressed by Sen. Byrd is unquestionably upheld by the business world today.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Department of Justice, under Attorney General Robert Kennedy, has important documents taken from the offices of Billie Sol Estes, of Pecos, Tex., a speculator and manipulator in fertilizer, fertilizer tanks, land, crop allotments and subsidized grain storage. Estes has been indicted by a Federal grand jury on many charges of fraud, but only in chattel mortgages on tanks. Friends of Estes have said that he showed them a gold card from the Democratic National Committee indicating that he had given $100,000 to the Party.

In the present situation, there was irregular practice between Billie Sol and agents of the Department of Agriculture including gifts comparable to the notorious vicuna coat in the Sherman Adams scandal of the Eisenhower Administration. The conflict of interest is the more dramatic because an important official of the Department of Agriculture was shot dead in a field near Bryan, Tex., while many dubious dealings of politicians were on his desk for investigation.

The victim was Henry H. Marshall. He had been shot in the abdomen five times by a .22 calibre bolt action rifle. The local Justice of the Peace said it would continue to be a suicide until "we get some new evidence to the countrary." Marshall was employed by the Federal Department of Agriculture to supervise cotton acreage allotments. He was suspicious of applications by Estes for such allotments. The sale of allotments is illegal, but Estes had hit upon a questionable device of lending on acres covered by allotments and foreclosing the mortgages.

Will Wilson, the Attorney General of Texas, told me he does not believe a man could shoot himself five times with a bolt-action gun. There was no autopsy and the usual police practice of fingerprinting the gun was ignored. Although many of Estes' applications for allotments had accumulated in Marshall's office, the U. S. Department of Agriculture did not ask for Federal investigators until a month after his death.

John Tower, the Texas Republican Senator, has charged that Estes was appointed to the National Cotton Advisory Committee in 1961 after some of his gifts to the Democratic Party. Tower had demanded an investigation of the conduct of James T. Ralph, former assistant Secretary of Agriculture, but then Ralph was dismissed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

Ralph and Estes have been hearty, intimate associates in Estes' grandiose plans. In correspondence, Estes reflected a dream of rustbucket argosies of surplus American wartime freighters carrying subsidized surplus American wheat to India and other mendicant countries with generous profit for Billie Sol.

Ralph meanwhile had been identified by clerks of the Neiman-Marcus store in Dallas, who said he came in with Estes and that they fitted him with expensive clothing which Estes paid for in currency. However, the clothing was shipped to Estes at a hotel in Washington where he stopped a few times. He was not in residence when the clothing arrived and there is no record to show who got it. Ralph denied that he ever received any of it.

Ralph did write a rapturous greeting to Estes's new daily paper, the Pecos Daily News, when it began publication last July. Ralph soared into space to project a future for the paper and Sol's fine ideals. The cost of running the News has been from $10,000 to $12,000 a month to date.

Secretary of Agriculture Freeman was one of two consecutive Governors of Minnesota who called out the National Guard to quell rioting at packing plants struck by the CIO, and imposed on these American soldiers the duty of doing picket service for an insurrectionary force. They simply closed the plants, which was the very purpose of the unions in rioting around the doors.

The other Governor was Luther Youngdahl. President Eisenhower rewarded him with a life job on the U. S. Court for the District of Columbia at the highest salary he has ever received.

Manufactured Bid Aids to Game

My former partner, Curtis Smith of Houston, has just finished a book called, "Bidding Through Logic."

It is entirely on action of the opening bidder and his partner, and while you may not agree with all Curtis' theories, you should be able to help your bridge game by studying the numerous hands that exemplify these theories.

Curtis feels that there is a key bid in every sequence. Thus, North's one diamond response is easy, as is South's spade rebid. At this point, what should North do?

He has tremendous spade support and wants to reach game. But he does not want to get past the game zone too quickly. A jump to four spades would be inadequate, so North should manufacture a three heart bid.

This can't hurt him. No matter how many hearts South bids, North can go to spades. In this case South will bid three no-trump, whereupon North can bid four spades and convey the message that his hand was too strong for a mere jump to game.

There is another by-product of his bid. A heart lead will hold South to five odd, but the way the cards lie he will make a small slam against any other opening.

To Become Director

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Oscar Friedensohn will become director of the State Commission for the Blind June 19. He now is assistant director.

His appointment was announced Sunday by the State Social Welfare Department, which supervises the commission.

$20,000 for School

PORTSMOUTH, R.I. (AP)—The Portsmouth Priory School has received $20,000 in scholarship funds from the Charles E. Merrill Trust of Ithaca, N.Y.

The school said Saturday the funds would make it possible to raise the academic level by providing aid to worthy boys in need of money.

Health for All

A Medical Mystery

We're guilty! We admit it. We've been telling you about the importance of keeping your resistance high, and we don't know what resistance is! Resistance is one of the great unsolved mysteries of modern medicine.

Of course the doctors aren't completely in the dark. Resistance to specific germs can be built up by vaccination—against smallpox, diphtheria, influenza, and polio, for instance. You can get a high degree of resistance to some other diseases by having one attack. That's true of such illnesses as measles, mumps, and chicken pox.

What we don't know, exactly and scientifically, is why, if two people get their feet wet, one comes down with a cold and the other doesn't.

One exciting avenue of research has been opened with the identification of a substance called interferon. When a cell is invaded by a virus, the cell sometimes produces interferon as a quick repsonse to the infection, usually within 24 hours. Interferon stops the virus cold. That may explain why we don't come down with more infections than we do. Some of those times when you feel as though you're coming down with something and nothing develops, interferon may be at work. So far, efforts to produce interferon haven't succeeded.

Fatigue and malnutrition seem to lower resistance to infection. Colds and influenza lower resistance to other diseases. A well-balanced diet, regular daily exercise, enough rest and sleep seem to keep resistance high.

So if you seem to be coming down with one infection after another, see your doctor. He can help you keep your general resistance high, even if he, too, doesn't know precisely what resistance is.

Near the end of day, newly formed shadows have a way of accentuating the little things that might escape unnoticed during the day. Warn Motorists Of Sub-standard Auto Seat Belts

ALBANY — Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults today warned motorists to be on the lookout for sub-standard seat belts if they purchase these safety devices between now and June 30.

After that date, belt manufacturers must have their products conform to standards established by the Vehicle & Traffic Law.

Do Not Meet Standards

Many belts are now on the market which do not meet these standards, Commissioner Hults explained. "We expect that some unscrupulous dealers will try to unload their stock of sub-standard belts before the new, stricter standards become law."

After June 30, any person convicted of selling or installing a seat safety belt that does not conform to specifications of the law is subject to a fine of up to $50 or imprisonment for up to 15 days or both.

The recent amendment to the Vehicle & Traffic Law directs that anchorage units to accommodate at least two front seat belts must be able to support a loop load of at least 4,000 pounds for each belt and the belts themselves to withstand a minimum load of at least 4,000 pounds applied for three seconds.

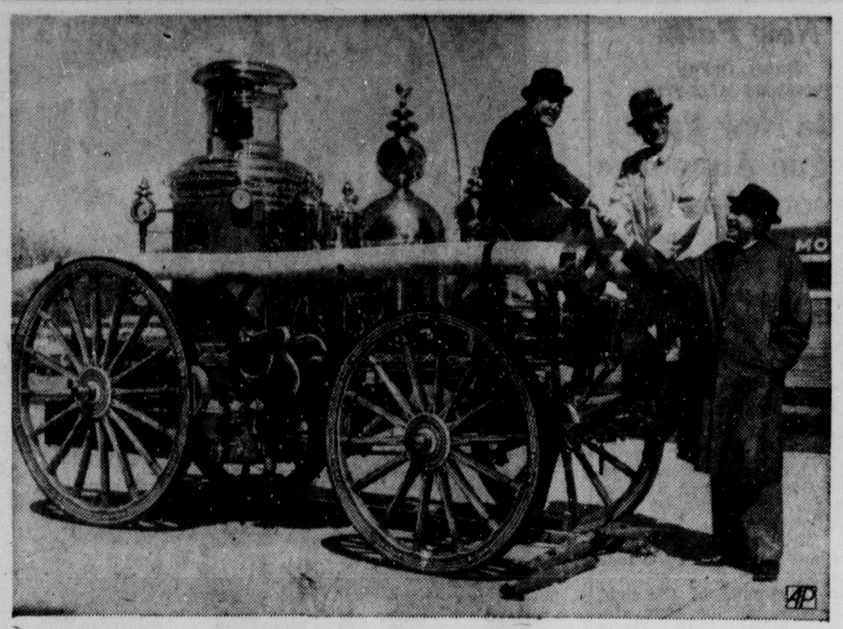

The release mechanism, or buckle, must operate at a pressure of not more than 45 pounds after a loop strength test.

The webbing of the belt which may come into contact with the user shall not be less than one and seven-eighths inches wide and shall not reduce to less than one and 13/16ths inches wide under stress.

Cites Slippage

The webbing should not stretch more than 20 per cent under a 2,500 pound tensile test load and after it is subjected to an abrasion test, and it should retain 90 per cent of the minimum tensile strength. Slippage of the webbing at or near the buckle in the release mechanism and at the attachment points should not exceed one inch under the 4,000 pound test load.

Commissioner Hults said the department has received scores of belts from manufacturers for approval. The department is testing these belts, and will begin approving them in the next two or three weeks if they meet required standards.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jill St. John admits that she and Lance Reventlow are not an average couple.

With that out of the way, we can go on to her theory: It works out nicely for a husband and wife to have separate bank accounts.

"If the wife works, or has money of her own, I think it's a fine system," said the strawberry blonde. "At least it has proven that way for us."

Jill said that when she married the multi-million heir of Barbara Hutton, he named a figure as regular allowance for her. "Fine," she replied.

Later he thought it over and said, "No, I'm not going to give you anything. You're making too much money yourself."

At that time she was under contract to 20th Century-Fox — she has since flown the coop. She accepted his decision gracefully and now says it's all for the good.

"I'm happier this way," she remarked. "I think it's good for a wife to buy things for herself with her own money. She feels more independent.

"I guess this goes back to my childhood. My folks bought me everything I needed. But that was always thrown up to me: 'How can you do that when we've always given you everything?' Also, my mother's tastes were imposed on me. She liked fancy clothes; I liked them simple. So I wore fancy clothes."

Jill said she now pays for all her clothes. Everything else, too —"But I'm sure Lance would lend me $5 or $10 if I was short and needed it to go out."

This system frees them to buy gifts for each other, which they do.

"Lance never had much interest in clothes," she explained. "So when I see a nice Italian shirt or sweater, I buy it for him. Once he admired a motorcycle, and I surprised him by buying it. He was so pleased that he bought one for me. Trouble is, I rode it once and went so slowly I fell off. I don't like speed; Lance does. I haven't ridden it since."

His Easter gift to her: A 45-gallon aquarium.

"For the past two years I've been an amateur marine biologist," she explained. "I've also got a 100-gallon tank in our playroom. I get purified sea water from Marineland and shipments of fish from Fiji, Hawaii and the Bahamas. I think everyone should have something that interests them.

"What I want to do next is put a porpoise in the swimming pool and study it. Extremely intelligent, the porpoise. But it needs salt water for buoyancy, and I don't know what that would do to the pool pipes. And whenever I mention my plan to Lance, he just looks at me."

Jill isn't panicked by loss of income since leaving Fox in January. She has a new manager who is planning big things for her. She'd like to work in Europe, since Lance's racing business often takes him there.

"Besides, the hours are more civilized," she said. "You start work at 11 in France and 10 in England, instead of reporting at 5 a.m. as you do in Hollywood."

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Outer space and the more mundane affairs of national defense and scientific gadgets for industry are the West Coast's top cards today.

A cluster of electronics plants and research labs here—one of several such groups in the West—is expanding fast and planning ever bigger layouts and farther-out products. Californians count on this to keep them prosperous, even if the economy should falter in areas devoted to older, basic industries.

"California's agricultural and tourist industries are stabilizing at a high level," says Rudolph A. Peterson, vice chairman of the Bank of America. "But defense is our big growth potential. Many electronic and missile companies are prospering now, as are all those connected in any way with the space age. Government spending in all these fields, and for defense in general, is bound to increase."

This might leave California vulnerable to a real peace scare, with so many of its eggs in the one basket. But electronics men here see plenty of peacetime opportunities.

On land leased from Stanford University, such companies as General Electric, Hewlett-Packard, Lockheed Aircraft, Admiral, Beckman Instruments, Clevite, Control Data, Kaiser Industries, Link Aviation, Metronic Associates, Microwave Engineering, Varian Associates and many others are studying and producing today's and tomorrow's marvels.

"The electronics industry is growing fast, even while it is changing fast", says H. Myrl Stearns, president of Varian Associates. "This makes the West Coast less affected than many other areas by the general economic cycle.

"We look hard for nondefense orders, although this company does a lot of subcontract work on defense projects.

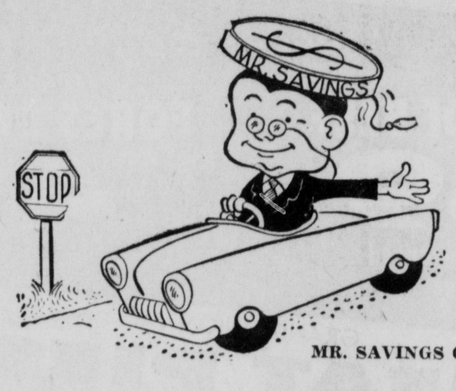

"All of us in this work must have profits to grow, and we hope Washington realizes that. We are growing fast—both around here and throughout the United States."

As electronic, missile and space age companies prosper, good times spread out to other industries, such as oil, gas, electricity, construction.

"Our expansion program is firmly set up for five years ahead," says Norman R. Sutherland, president of Pacific Gas & Electric. "We see nothing now that could change it. California is continuing to grow and a recession in the East or stock market jitters would have only a delayed and watered down effect out here."

Standard Oil of California's spending plans are higher this year than last. And President O. N. Miller says they are unaffected by recent government-business tangles or the slower growth in the general economy than first predicted.

Warn Motorists Of Sub-standard Auto Seat Belts

ALBANY — Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults today warned motorists to be on the lookout for sub-standard seat belts if they purchase these safety devices between now and June 30.

After that date, belt manufacturers must have their products conform to standards established by the Vehicle & Traffic Law.

The release mechanism, or buckle, must operate at a pressure of not more than 45 pounds after a loop strength test.

The webbing of the belt which may come into contact with the fiser shall not be less than one and seven-eighths inches wide and shall not reduce to less than one and 13/16ths inches wide under stress.

Last Generator Is To Start Running At Power Plant

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—The giant Niagara power project marks another milestone Tuesday when it puts into operation the last of 13 generators at its main power station.

The addition of the 13th generator will bring installed capacity to 1,950,000 kilowatts and means a major step toward completion of the $720 million project.

By the end of the year, 12 smaller generators in the nearby Lewiston pump generator station all will be in operation, bringing total installed capacity to 2,190,000 kilowatts—the largest in the Western world. Russia claims a Volga River project rated at 2.3 million kilowatts.

The huge 150,000 kilowatt generators at the main plant were shipped here in pieces by the contractor, Westinghouse Electric Corp., and assembled on the scene.

Each generator is 40 feet in diameter. They stand in a row at the base of the 314-foot-high plant built into the edge of the Niagara Gorge five miles below the American falls. To ship them here at the same time would have taken a train nearly 450 cars long.

Ceremonies marking the occasion Tuesday will be attended by William S. Chapin, general manager and chief engineer for the State Power Authority, and Robert H. Wagner, Westinghouse vice president of the Northeastern region.

The main plant is called the Robert Moses Niagara Power Plant after the State Power Authority chairman who is directing the public power project.

Use of residential electricity in the U.S. increased 272 per cent in the period between 1947 and 1959.

Handbook on Love Issued to British Girl Scout Troops

LONDON, (AP)—A handbook on love-making has been issued for the Girl Scouts of Britain, likening the perils of sex to the hazards of driving a car.

Adopting the parlance of a driving instructor, the book warns girls against thinking they can "indulge in high-powered sex play and then jam on the brakes at the last moment."

Chapters come under such headings as "Perils of the Road" and "Under the Bonnet (British expression for hood)."

The 32-page book was written by Mrs. Nancy Warner, mother of six and former teacher at the exclusive Roedean School for Girls. It was published for the Girl Guides Association.

Girl Guides, as the Girl Scouts are known here, number about 250,000 in Britain. An official of their association said:

"Our other book was too out of date for the modern miss."

By the end of the year, 12 smaller generators in the nearby Lewiston pump generator station all will be in operation, bringing total installed capacity to 2,190,000 kilowatts—the largest in the Western world. Russia claims a Volga River project rated at 2.3 million kilowatts.

The huge 150,000 kilowatt generators at the main plant were shipped here in pieces by the contractor, Westinghouse Electric Corp., and assembled on the scene.

Each generator is 40 feet in diameter. They stand in a row at the base of the 314-foot-high plant built into the edge of the Niagara Gorge five miles below the American falls. To ship them here at the same time would have taken a train nearly 450 cars long.

Ceremonies marking the occasion Tuesday will be attended by William S. Chapin, general manager and chief engineer for the State Power Authority, and Robert H. Wagner, Westinghouse vice president of the Northeastern region.

The main plant is called the Robert Moses Niagara Power Plant after the State Power Authority chairman who is directing the public power project.

Use of residential electricity in the U.S. increased 272 per cent in the period between 1947 and 1959.

Handbook on Love Issued to British Girl Scout Troops

LONDON, (AP)—A handbook on love-making has been issued for the Girl Scouts of Britain, likening the perils of sex to the hazards of driving a car.

Adopting the parlance of a driving instructor, the book warns girls against thinking they can "indulge in high-powered sex play and then jam on the brakes at the last moment."

Chapters come under such headings as "Perils of the Road" and "Under the Bonnet (British expression for hood)."

The 32-page book was written by Mrs. Nancy Warner, mother of six and former teacher at the exclusive Roedean School for Girls. It was published for the Girl Guides Association.

Girl Guides, as the Girl Scouts are known here, number about 250,000 in Britain. An official of their association said:

"Our other book was too out of date for the modern miss."

Jap's Red Trade Gains

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's trade with the Communist bloc reached a record $320 million last year, a 61 per cent increase over 1960, the Foreign Ministry reported today. It represented only 3.2 per cent of Japan's total trade, however.

Will Boost Trade

WARSAW (AP) — Communist Poland and Brazil have agreed to increase their two-way trade turnover from $28 million last year to $70 million a year. This was still far from the goal of $120 million envisioned in their 1960 trade agreement.

AFTER A CITY: A marathon is a race and it is usually a race of 26 miles. It was originally named after the city of Marathon in Greece. Program Slated Tonight

Doctors Will Counter Medicare Plan on TV

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kennedy Administration, with the President leading the assault, has carried a plea for its medical care for the aged program across the nation in an attempt to bring pressure to bear on Congress. The American Medical Association goes on nationwide television tonight to counter the move.

While President Kennedy addressed 17,500 persons at New York City's Madison Square Garden Sunday, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and other administration spokesmen sounded calls for support of medical care for aged under Social Security at more than a score of rallies across the country.

Many listeners, inluding some gray-haired prospective recipients of benefits under the King-Anderson bill, chanted "We will, we will" when the spokesmen told them to write their congressmen and urge support for the measure.

Makes Prediction

Kennedy, whose speech was carried on nationwide television, predicted that the bill would pass Congress "this year, or, as the tide comes in, next year." He noted that Britain adopted similar legislation 30 years ago.

The American Medical Association, which vigorously opposes the Kennedy-backed measure, takes to the air at 7 p.m. (EST), tonight in a network television program (NBC) designed to answer the administration.

The president of the association, Dr. Leonard W. Larson, blasted the bill and the rallies saying the U.S. Treasury is being looted "in a massive propaganda blitz designed to pressure Congress" into enacting the program.

In a statement after the Kennedy speech, Larson said: "Giant Madison Square Garden rallies cannot conceal this fact: the King-Anderson bill would force an immediate 17 per cent payroll tax increase on workers earning $5,200 or more and their employers."

Calls It Radical

Larson described the measure as radical and said it would "give the federal government dangerous power to control medical practice in hospitals."

The AMA favors the present Kerr-Mills law, which provides for federal assistance to states but leaves administration of a program of medical care for indigents over 65 to the states themselves.

Under the King-Anderson measure, Social Security recipients would be eligible for medical aid financed through a Social Security payroll tax increase of one-fourth of one per cent on employes and employers.

The President said at least half the mail he has received on the bill has been "wholly misinformed" about its provisions.

"This is not a campaign against doctors," he said, "because doctors have joined with us. This is a campaign to help people meet their responsibilities.

"We do not cover doctors' bills here. We do not affect the freedom of choice. You can go to any doctor you want, and you work out your arrangements with him. We talk about the hospital bill, and that is an entirely different matter."

Kennedy later visited briefly at Gracie Mansion with 106 mayors from across the country. The mayors, members of the Mayors Committee for Health Care for the Aged Under Social Security, were invited to attend the rally by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Vice President Johnson carried the administration plea to St. Louis where he told an openly partisan audience of more than a thousand that the program is a "sound, reasonable and dignified" approach to the health problems of the aged.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dragged its heels with prices moderately lower in slow trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .80 at 240.10 with industrials off 1.90, rails up .20 and utilities unchanged.

Losses of key stocks went generally from fractions to about a point.

Steels, Big Three motors, aerospace issues, electrical equipments, nonferrous metals, tobaccos and chemicals were mostly lower. The pattern was irregular among utilities, rails, drugs, oils and rubbers.

Hopes that last week's advance would continue after the weekend were disappointed from the start when the market moved routinely and without much direction.

The major steels took a string of losses. Down about a point were U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin. Bethlehem and Republic dropped fractions.

General Motors lost a fraction, Ford nearly a point and Chrysler eased. American Motors held firm.

A drop of about 2 points by Du Pont depressed the averages. A 1-point loss by AT&T had the same effect. IBM slipped more than 3 points in a fairly routine move. Litton industries dropped more than a point.

Tobaccos resumed their reactionary tendencies, with Liggett & Myers down more than a point and Lorillard down about a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 3.18 at 647.52.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange worked generally higher in quiet trading.

Corporate bonds were firm with industrials off. U.S. government bonds declined slightly.

U.S. Hopes Other Force Will Be Sent to Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The United States held out hopes today other Southeast Asia Treaty Organization powers would send forces to Thailand but Thai officials were reported satisfied American support is enough to ward off any Communist incursions from neighboring Laos.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in Southeast Asia, said after an inspection tour of the border front that his men had the "situation well in hand."

Tanks were on the way from Hawaii with the buildup moving steadily toward a total strength of 5,000 men.

United States Ambassador Kenth Young said the Americans would remain as long as the Red threat to this pro-Western kingdom existed and would welcome troops from other SEATO nations joining them.

With the exception of France, all other members of the eight-nation anti-Communist alliance have indicated a willingness to send token forces if Thailand asks for them.

The Thai government called on the Americans but there has been no report further help would be sought from others, at least at this time.

Border Was Quiet

The Laotian border was quiet, but the Communist bloc warned the massing of American troops along the frontier threatened to stir up trouble.

The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda warned the American landings in Thailand may "cause retaliatory action from the other side."

The Peiping People's Daily, official voice of Red China, charged the American troop movements "constitute a serious threat to the security of China."

Prince Souvanna Phouma, the man whom both the West and East hope will take Laos out of the cold war, said the American troops in Thailand posed no threat to Laos even though he regretted they were sent there.

The neutralist leader was in a confident mood during a stopover in Calcutta on his way back to Laos for negotiations on formation of a national unity government. He predicted these sessions would halt all fighting in Laos and bring about an independent, neutral regime under his leadership.

Increased Output Is Big Problem, Kennedy Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today the problem facing the nation is not how labor and management should divide fruits of production but how to increase output so everyone will have more to share.

The President was the first speaker at the White House conference of national economic issues—attended by several hundred of the nation's leading businessmen, labor union leaders, and representatives of the public.

Kennedy was introduced by Chairman Thomas J. Watson Jr. of the International Business Machines Co.

The President said the business and labor leaders had an opportunity at the conference to suggest to the government how the country can do a better job in increasing output and economic growth.

Kennedy said the nation is not reaching its full productive potential. He said France, Italy, and Germany are doing a better job in using their potentialities and reaching higher economic growth rates.

Kennedy said many in business and labor criticize various aspects of his domestic economic policies as well as foreign economic problems such as reducing the balance of payments deficit.

He called on those present to come up with any suggestions they think would be better ways of handling the problems.

The President, speaking without a prepared text, said it is time to differentiate between myth and reality.

He said some bankers recently told Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon they are afraid of inflation developing in this country. This is no problem at all, Kennedy said, because there has been very little inflation since 1958 and prices remain steady.

He appealed to labor and management to look at things as they are, and not in terms of party labels or anything else.

In that connection, Kennedy noted there will be no presidential election for two years. He indicated that now is the time to pull together for the general good, forgetting partisanship.

Top members of Kennedy's Cabinet, along with leading business and labor officials, are scheduled to discuss such broad issues as collective bargaining, economic growth and wage-price policies, automation problems, and U.S. foreign trade problems during the two-day conference.

Extend Manhunt To Middletown For Area Escapee

An extensive manhunt was under way today in a wooded area near Middletown for Anthony Santos, 21 of that city, who escaped last Thursday night from Dutchess County sheriff's office, Poughkeepsie.

Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan said state police and deputy sheriffs from Dutchess and Putnam Counties and Middletown authorities began search in the woods after police were notified by a neighbor of Santos, that she saw him visiting his wife and children late Sunday night.

The neighbor, who was not identified, said Santos left in an automobile which later was found abandoned in the woods where the search is now underway.

Quinlan said a helicopter from Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, is assisting in the search. Orange County Sheriffs Office reported after 1 p. m. the search for Santos was still on and roadblocks had been set up on the outskirts of Middletown, and main highways in Orange County.

Conservative Tack Is Best In Golden Years Planning

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "My husband and I own some Southern New England Telephone, Fafin, Stanley Works, Connecticut Light & Power, and Sterling Drug. I want to buy more of the latter, but my husband thinks it's too high. We are interested in planning ahead for our golden years. What do you think of our holdings — and about buying more Sterling Drug?" — P. H.

A) I don't believe I've ever heard retirement so happily expressed as in your term, the golden years. I sincerely hope they will prove to be so for you both.

Your list of stocks is a very sound one, and my only comment would be that it is a little lacking in strong growth potential. Under present market conditions, however, I suggest no change, since I believe that the relatively good and well-protected yield on your holdings will act as a restraining influence against further declines.

As regards Sterling Drug, I'm afraid I must agree with your husband. This is a good stock which seems to be fully discounting growth at present.

Q) "Would you consider Pacific Vegetable Oil a good speculative buy at present price levels? How are over-the-counter purchases handled?"—G. H.

A) To take your last question first, OTC purchases are made just like any other, as far as you personally are concerned. But they are handled differently by your dealer, who acquires stock by negotiation rather than by auction on the floor of an exchange, as is the case with listed stocks.

If your investment house acts as a broker, it will buy shares for your account and bill you as agent, charging about the same as you would have to pay on a listed stock. If they act as a dealer, they will bill you as principal at a net price which includes their profit.

As regards Pacific Vegetable Oil, I consider this stock a rather volatile commodity situation which is too high priced at present levels. I suggest, instead, Pendleton Tool, another West Coast OTC stock which I believe will continue to show marked earnings improvement.

To Enforce Boat Laws on Hudson, Dutchess Lakes

Boat patrols on the Hudson River and lakes in Dutchess County, seeking violators of state regulations governing speed and safe operation of boats, began Sunday under direction of deputy sheriffs.

Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan said deputies last evening patroled the river between Beacon and Tivoli, and Sylvan, Silver and Whaley Lakes. He said the boat patrol would continue each evening through the summer.

Quinlan said the lakes were not very busy Sunday, but deputies reported considerable activity on the river, but found no violations. The sheriff has urged boat operators to use caution, and warned that court summonses will be issued to violators of the regulations.

Program Slated Tonight

Doctors Will Counter Medicare Plan on TV

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kennedy Administration, with the President leading the assault, has carried a plea for its medical care for the aged program across the nation in an attempt to bring pressure to bear on Congress. The American Medical Association goes on nationwide television tonight to counter the move.

While President Kennedy addressed 17,500 persons at New York City's Madison Square Garden Sunday, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and other administration spokesmen sounded calls for support of medical care for aged under Social Security at more than a score of rallies across the country.

Many listeners, inluding some gray-haired prospective recipients of benefits under the King-Anderson bill, chanted "We will, we will" when the spokesmen told them to write their congressmen and urge support for the measure.

Makes Prediction

Kennedy, whose speech was carried on nationwide television, predicted that the bill would pass Congress "this year, or, as the tide comes in, next year." He noted that Britain adopted similar legislation 30 years ago.

The American Medical Association, which vigorously opposes the Kennedy-backed measure, takes to the air at 7 p.m. (EST), tonight in a network television program (NBC) designed to answer the administration.

The president of the association, Dr. Leonard W. Larson, blasted the bill and the rallies saying the U.S. Treasury is being looted "in a massive propaganda blitz designed to pressure Congress" into enacting the program.

In a statement after the Kennedy speech, Larson said: "Giant Madison Square Garden rallies cannot conceal this fact: the King-Anderson bill would force an immediate 17 per cent payroll tax increase on workers earning $5,200 or more and their employers."

Calls It Radical

Larson described the measure as radical and said it would "give the federal government dangerous power to control medical practice in hospitals."

The AMA favors the present Kerr-Mills law, which provides for federal assistance to states but leaves administration of a program of medical care for indigents over 65 to the states themselves.

Under the King-Anderson measure, Social Security recipients would be eligible for medical aid financed through a Social Security payroll tax increase of one-fourth of one per cent on employes and employers.

The President said at least half the mail he has received on the bill has been "wholly misinformed" about its provisions.

"This is not a campaign against doctors," he said, "because doctors have joined with us. This is a campaign to help people meet their responsibilities.

"We do not cover doctors' bills here. We do not affect the freedom of choice. You can go to any doctor you want, and you work out your arrangements with him. We talk about the hospital bill, and that is an entirely different matter."

Kennedy later visited briefly at Gracie Mansion with 106 mayors from across the country. The mayors, members of the Mayors Committee for Health Care for the Aged Under Social Security, were invited to attend the rally by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Vice President Johnson carried the administration plea to St. Louis where he told an openly partisan audien of more than a thousand that the program is a "sound, reasonable and dignified" approach to the health problems of the aged.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dragged its heels with prices moderately lower in slow trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .80 at 240.10 with industrials off 1.90, rails up .20 and utilities unchanged.

Losses of key stocks went generally from fractions to about a point.

Steels, Big Three motors, aerospace issues, electrical equipments, nonferrous metals, tobaccos and chemicals were mostly lower. The pattern was irregular among utilities, rails, drugs, oils and rubbers.

Hopes that last week's advance would continue after the weekend were disappointed from the start when the market moved routinely and without much direction.

The major steels took a string of losses. Down about a point were U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin. Bethlehem and Republic dropped fractions.

General Motors lost a fraction, Ford nearly a point and Chrysler eased. American Motors held firm.

A drop of about 2 points by Du Pont depressed the averages. A 1-point loss by AT&T had the same effect. IBM slipped more than 3 points in a fairly routine move. Litton industries dropped more than a point.

Tobaccos resumed their reactionary tendencies, with Liggett & Myers down more than a point and Lorillard down about a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 3.18 at 647.52.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange worked generally higher in quiet trading.

Corporate bonds were firm with industrials off. U.S. government bonds declined slightly.

U.S. Hopes Other Force Will Be Sent to Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The United States held out hopes today other Southeast Asia Treaty Organization powers would send forces to Thailand but Thai officials were reported satisfied American support is enough to ward off any Communist incursions from neighboring Laos.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in Southeast Asia, said after an inspection tour of the border front that his men had the "situation well in hand."

Tanks were on the way from Hawaii with the buildup moving steadily toward a total strength of 5,000 men.

United States Ambassador Kenth Young said the Americans would remain as long as the Red threat to this pro-Western kingdom existed and would welcome troops from other SEATO nations joining them.

With the exception of France, all other members of the eight-nation anti-Communist alliance have indicated a willingness to send token forces if Thailand asks for them.

The Thai government called on the Americans but there has been no report further help would be sought from others, at least at this time.

Border Was Quiet

The Laotian border was quiet, but the Communist bloc warned the massing of American troops along the frontier threatened to stir up trouble.

The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda warned the American landings in Thailand may "cause retaliatory action from the other side."

The Peiping People's Daily, official voice of Red China, charged the American troop movements "constitute a serious threat to the security of China."

Prince Souvanna Phouma, the man whom both the West and East hope will take Laos out of the cold war, said the American troops in Thailand posed no threat to Laos even though he regretted they were sent there.

The neutralist leader was in a confident mood during a stopover in Calcutta on his way back to Laos for negotiations on formation of a national unity government. He predicted these sessions would halt all fighting in Laos and bring about an independent, neutral regime under his leadership.

Increased Output Is Big Problem, Kennedy Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today the problem facing the nation is not how labor and management should divide fruits of production but how to increase output so everyone will have more to share.

The President was the first speaker at the White House conference of national economic issues—attended by several hundred of the nation's leading businessmen, labor union leaders, and representatives of the public.

Kennedy was introduced by Chairman Thomas J. Watson Jr. of the International Business Machines Co.

The President said the business and labor leaders had an opportunity at the conference to suggest to the government how the country can do a better job in increasing output and economic growth.

Kennedy said the nation is not reaching its full productive potential. He said France, Italy, and Germany are doing a better job in using their potentialities and reaching higher economic growth rates.

Kennedy said many in business and labor criticize various aspects of his domestic economic policies as well as foreign economic problems such as reducing the balance of payments deficit.

He called on those present to come up with any suggestions they think would be better ways of handling the problems.

The President, speaking without a prepared text, said it is time to differentiate between myth and reality.

He said some bankers recently told Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon they are afraid of inflation developing in this country. This is no problem at all, Kennedy said, because there has been very little inflation since 1958 and prices remain steady.

He appealed to labor and management to look at things as they are, and not in terms of party labels or anything else.

In that connection, Kennedy noted there will be no presidential election for two years. He indicated that now is the time to pull together for the general good, forgetting partisanship.

Top members of Kennedy's Cabinet, along with leading business and labor officials, are scheduled to discuss such broad issues as collective bargaining, economic growth and wage-price policies, automation problems, and U.S. foreign trade problems during the two-day conference.

Extend Manhunt To Middletown For Area Escapee

An extensive manhunt was under way today in a wooded area near Middletown for Anthony Santos, 21 of that city, who escaped last Thursday night from Dutchess County sheriff's office, Poughkeepsie.

Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan said state police and deputy sheriffs from Dutchess and Putnam Counties and Middletown authorities began search in the woods after police were notified by a neighbor of Santos, that she saw him visiting his wife and children late Sunday night.

The neighbor, who was not identified, said Santos left in an automobile which later was found abandoned in the woods where the search is now underway.

Quinlan said a helicopter from Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, is assisting in the search. Orange County Sheriff's Office reported after 1 p. m. the search for Santos was still on and roadblocks had been set up on the outskirts of Middletown, and main highways in Orange County.

Conservative Tack Is Best In Golden Years Planning

Q) "My husband and I own some Southern New England Telephone, Fafin, Stanley Works, Connecticut Light & Power, and Sterling Drug. I want to buy more of the latter, but my husband thinks it's too high. We are interested in planning ahead for our golden years. What do you think of our holdings — and about buying more Sterling Drug?" — P. H.

A) I don't believe I've ever heard retirement so happily expressed as in your term, the golden years. I sincerely hope they will prove to be so for you both.

Your list of stocks is a very sound one, and my only comment would be that it is a little lacking in strong growth potential. Under present market conditions, however, I suggest no change, since I believe that the relatively good and well-protected yield on your holdings will act as a restraining influence against further declines.

As regards Sterling Drug, I'm afraid I must agree with your husband. This is a good stock which seems to be fully discounting growth at present.

Q) "Would you consider Pacific Vegetable Oil a good speculative buy at present price levels? How are over-the-counter purchases handled?"—G. H.

A) To take your last question first, OTC purchases are made just like any other, as far as you personally are concerned. But they are handled differently by your dealer, who acquires stock by negotiation rather than by auction on the floor of an exchange, as is the case with listed stocks.

If your investment house acts as a broker, it will buy shares for your account and bill you as agent, charging about the same as you would have to pay on a listed stock. If they act as a dealer, they will bill you as principal at a net price which includes their profit.

As regards Pacific Vegetable Oil, I consider this stock a rather volatile commodity situation which is too high priced at present levels. I suggest, instead, Pendleton Tool, another West Coast OTC stock which I believe will continue to show marked earnings improvement.

To Enforce Boat Laws on Hudson, Dutchess Lakes

Boat patrols on the Hudson River and lakes in Dutchess County, seeking violators of state regulations governing speed and safe operation of boats, began Sunday under direction of deputy sheriffs.

Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan said deputies last evening patroled the river between Beacon and Tivoli, and Sylvan, Silver and Whaley Lakes. He said the boat patrol would continue each evening through the summer.

Quinlan said the lakes were not very busy Sunday, but deputies reported considerable activity on the river, but found no violations. The sheriff has urged boat operators to use caution, and warned that court summonses will be issued to violators of the regulations.

Heat Wave Here Over Weekend

The City Engineering Department reported today that Friday's temperature was the hottest day ever recorded by that department for May 18 and that Saturday's soaring mercury reached the same level as the previous all time high recorded in Kingston for May 19.

Friday the thermometer registered a blistering 95 degrees, a degree hotter than the previous high for May 18 in this area. The old mark was set in 1936.

Saturday the mercury matched the 94 degrees recorded in 1949.

Sunday the temperature "cooled off" to four degrees under the all time high for May 20. On that date in 1959 the mercury rose to 97 degrees. Sunday's hottest was 93 degrees.

The temperature at 10 o'clock this morning was 79 degrees. The high for May 21 is 95 degrees, reached in 1955.

Officials Believe Titov Lacked Flight Experience

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Officials of the U.S. astronaut program feel that Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov is "pretty green" by American standards of flight experience.

A spokesman for Project Mercury said this "relative inexperience" of Titov may have made him nervous during his flight and contributed strongly to the slight case of motion sickness he reported.

The spokesman, Lt. Col. John A. Powers, public information officer, volunteered these views when a reporter asked whether Navy Lt. Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter had any history of motion sickness.

Powers said Carpenter had no such history and that it was deemed unlikely he would experience any in his projected three-orbit flight. He noted that Titov had reported that he had had only 350 hours of pilot flight time in aircraft before soaring into space.

This compares, said Powers, with at least 1,000 hours for each of the seven Mercury astronauts. He said some of the seven had much more than that.

Scientists Aplenty

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia under the Communists now has 40 times as many scientists as it did under the Tsars, Tass asserted today.

The Soviet news agency said there are now 404,000 scientists in the Soviet Union while in Czarist Russia there were only 10,000.

ILLUSORY PROFITS

Never in the economic history of America has the desire to gain profits in the stock market been more rampant than at present. Thousands of investors, ignoring the sound principles of investment, are buying equities without regard to dividend income.

Last year such an investor took $3,000 of his savings earning 4 per cent a year and bought five shares of International Business Machines at around $600 a share. In doing this he forfeited $120 a year in dependable income to buy shares paying $15 a year.

The day following his purchase, IBM advanced $10 a share and his plan of big profits seemed on the way to fruition. But a week ago, when his stock tumbled to $430 with a resultant paper loss of $170 a share, he was completely disillusioned. His capital gains ideas became a mockery and his small quarterly dividend checks peanuts.

Any stocks that sells at from 25 to 50 times its annual earnings is an equity that average investors should pass by. The purpose of sound investment needs to be emphasized today. It is simply this: an investor has a surplus of money he wishes to put to work to earn for him a suitable wage.

And with U. S. Treasury bonds selling to yield about 4 per cent to maturity, with prime corporate obligations paying up to 5 per cent, with mutual savings banks and building and loan associations inviting deposits at 4, 4½, 4¾ per cent, the average investor should not speculate in high or medium-grade stocks paying small dividends.

Thousands of small investors are hopefully speculating in such "romance" stocks as Xerox, Polaroid, Litton Industries, Fairchild Camera, and Texas Instruments — to mention only five — in the same spirit as the IBM investor bought his five shares.

Now all of these stocks have promising speculative futures, and investors who can afford to lose and are not interested in current income may trade in them.

The profit motive in securities is so dangerously widespread that those who are following it should recognize its pitfalls and map out an intelligent investment plan.

The first $5,000 that a person saves through industry and thrift should be divided into at least three parts.

1. A savings bank account with $1,000 in it should be opened.

2. An adequate insurance program should be begun.

3. And if common stocks of leading corporations are bought, they should be equities of America's best enterprises, paying a good and dependable return, and that carry growth.

Today a young man in my office told me that recently he had bought ten shares of Polaroid at $200 a share! He has no savings bank account and only a $1,000 life-insurance policy.

The stock went to $220 a share and he was happy. But when it went to $175 he was miserable.

There are armies of people like him in America today. Illusory profits command their attention, and when their stocks decline in price their social, economic and moral life is often badly affected.

Lectures on sound investment are a great need in America today.

Ask Eisenhower To Help Draft GOP Principles

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Republican leaders asked former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's help today in editing a 3,200-word preliminary draft of a campaign statement of party principles.

In advance of a scheduled breakfast meeting with Eisenhower, Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., predicted he and his Senate and House colleagues will come up with a much more terse statement of the issues that all GOP candidates can subscribe to in the November election campaign.

Fiscal Topic Big

Laird declined to enumerate the issues but others said the preliminary draft bears down hard on demands for fiscal responsibility in government, a field in which Republicans have chalked up President Kennedy's efforts as a failure.

The Republicans are expected to agree on a strong statement supporting civil rights. They are relatively united in opposition to the administration's farm program, which Eisenhower specifically has criticized.

There are several Republican viewpoints on what to do about health care for the elderly, although a majority apparently opposes Kennedy's plan to finance such a program through Social Security taxes.

To Call for Resistance

In the international field, the Republicans are expected to call for firm resistance to Communist encroachments in Berlin and Southeast Asia. They are likely to blame Kennedy for the loss of Cuba. They are certain to leave the door open for future criticism of the President's foreign policy actions.

Eisenhower's advance approval was regarded as a political must by Republican leaders who expect to lean heavily on his services in campaigning for Senate, House and governor candidates in key states.

Thirty-one of the 34 presidents of the United States were born in small towns or villages.

Gov. Rockefeller Is Conservative Says Democrats

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon says Gov. Rockefeller "is a conservative Republican who sometimes sounds more Goldwater than Goldwater."

"We plan to pin the conservative label" on Rockefeller, McKeon declared in likening him to Sen. Barry Goldwater, conservative Republican of Arizona.

McKeon also predicted that any candidates the Democrats nominate can win in November against Rockefeller and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, who is slated to run with Rockefeller on the Republican ticket. Both are generally considered to be aligned with the party's liberal wing.

McKeon discussed the forthcoming campaign Sunday on a television program.

He said his party's search for candidates is a "healthy" thing. He did not state any preference among those mentioned for the nominations.

McKeon noted that he had set June 1 as a deadline for hearing from the state's 62 Democratic county leaders on the feelings of the potential candidates in their areas. He said he was interested particularly in soundings taken by Upstate leaders — especially "among disenchanted Republicans."

Had Advise About Curbing Pornography, Now He's Held

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Three years ago Nathan Harrison was in Washington giving advice to a congressional committee on how to curb pornographic literature. Today he is accused of running a club dealing in pornography.

Harrison, 52-year-old proprietor of an optical business here, was said by police to be the sponsor of the "Inner Circle," which advertised itself in a Toronto publication as "an exclusive club for sophisticated couples and single men and women."

When arrested Friday night, Harrison possessed nude pictures of men and women in various poses and indecent letters, police said. Club members in all parts of the United States and Canada apparently exchanged the material among themselves, Dist. Atty. Stephen Smyk said.

Harrison pleaded innocent Saturday to a charge of possessing pornographic pictures and literature, a misdemeanor. City Court Judge Joseph W. Esworthy released him in $50 bail, and the case was postponed to today.

According to Smyk, membership in the Inner Circle cost $2. The club promised "gossip and a complete list of folks you will want to meet."

Harrison was arrested in a Binghamton hotel, after he showed allegedly pornographic material to police agents posing as a married couple interested in club activities. One of the agents was from the Binghamton police, the other from the Massachusetts State Police.

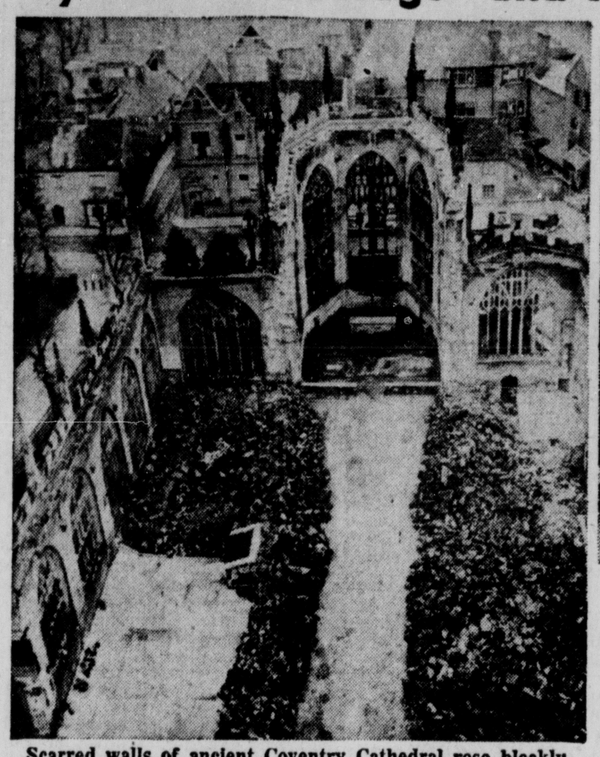

Smyk said assacnusetts police had supplied some of the information leading to the arrest.

Harrison, married and the father of two, appeared three years ago in Washington before the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

He suggested that traffic in pornography could be stamped out if code numbers were placed on all film and paper sold in the country. Thus it could be traced, he said.

Harrison said then that he had been stirred into action because a friend of his, a 14-year-old girl, had received a pornographic brochure in the mail. Harrison said the brochure "was enough to distort any mind, whether child or adult."

Guido to Govern By Decree for At Least a Year

By ROMAN JIMENEZ

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Jose Maria Guido today was accused of returning dictatorship to Argentina by sending Congress into a long recess and suspending political parties. His purpose was to purge Peronists from political life.

Backed by the military chiefs who put him in to replace ousted President Arturo Frondizi three months ago, the mild-mannered small-town lawyer who said he never aspired to power now will govern by decree for at least a year.

Guido's dictatorship was confronted with an immediate test of strength as workers on the government-run railroads began a 24-hour strike at midnight to protest delays in payment of salaries and pensions.

Union leaders rebuffed attempts by Economics Minister Alvaro Asogaray to stall off the walkout to give the regime time to bring the nation out of what the government called a financial crisis of the most serious character.

Guido came under fire from leaders of his own Intransigent Radical party and the opposition groups for his orders recessing Congress for a year and sidelining political parties by ordering them to reorganize.

In his orders issued after a six-hour Cabinet session, Guido said a new Congress would be elected next March 31 and a presidential election would be held by October 1963.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twice within four years the United States has resorted to an unusual show of force around the world. Both times Premier Khrushchev reacted rather mildly.

But this, looked at over the long haul, is hardly cause for crowing.

Both times — in sending troops into Lebanon in 1958 and now into Thailand — the United States observed the niceties of international etiquette.

It said the Lebanese and Thai governments asked for this kind of American help. This did more than just give the United States, in the eyes of the rest of the world, a legal position for its action.

1. It deprived Khrushchev of the chance of making much anti-American propaganda of it.

2. More important, it avoided challenging him directly even though, in the case of Lebanon, American troops landed in his barkyard.

Answered Request

In 1958 President Eisenhower sent about 5,000 troops into Lebanon at the request of President Chamoun who asked assistance against Moslem rebels said to be supported by Egyptian President Nasser.

The Kennedy administration, putting the same number of troops in Thailand, let it be known the government there asked for them as protection againt any invasion from Communist guerrilas in next-door Laos.

After the Americans went into Lebanon Khrushchev asked Eisenhower for a summit meeting. After the Americans went into Thailand Khrushchev said they "may be there for 15 years but they will be kicked out."

These mild reactions are no cause for thinking Khrushchev got cold feet at the sight of American rifles.

Count as Time

Communists believe time is on their side. There is no basic difference between their tactics today and those of Stalin. The only difference is that today communism is in less of a hurry.

Communism in Stalin's time pushed its luck in Greece, Korea, and with the Berlin blockade. In each case it met stiff American resistance. Meanwhile Communism took over Czechoslovakia.

This was done through internal subversion without war or direct conflict with the United States.

Now a subtle and insidious Communist push, avoiding direct conflict with the West and taking plenty of time, has been going on in Southeast Asia. Half of Viet Nam was gone by 1954 in guerrilla war against the French.

Since then the Red guerrillas have been trying to take over the rest of Viet Nam.

They have made so much progress that a few months ago this country began bolstering the Vietnamese with help in the form of weapons and training by American military men.

Too Soon

The Kennedy administration is beginning to sound as if the tide were turned. It's far too soon for that. In that impoverished country the Communists can take their time which right now is what they have most of.

Laos may be lost. And the administration may already be reconciled to that. It is not sending troops in there against the pro-Communist guerrillas. It is willing to settle for a coalition government.

But Communists, in a coalition government, may in time take over the whole government. That would be just as effective as taking over by military action, and far cheaper, as in Czechoslovakia.

American troops in Thailand can deter Communists from direct attack there. But in time Communists, if they take Laos, can work around it in the rest of Southeast Asia.

Another good reason for not sending American troops into Laos —which borders in Red China— is that the Red Chinese, as in Korea, might think it necessary to send in their troops and make it another Korea.

So, while Khrushchev has been mild about American troops in Thailand, the mildness proves nothing except perhaps that he doesn't want to get into a global war over some dilapidated real estate in Southeast Asia.

Why should he if he thinks— and he says he does—that communism can win without war?

Had Advise About Curbing Pornography, Now He's Held

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Three years ago Nathan Harrison was in Washington giving advice to a congressional committee on how to curb pornographic literature. Today he is accused of running a club dealing in pornography.

Harrison, 52-year-old proprietor of an optical business here, was said by police to be the sponsor of the "Inner Circle," which advertised itself in a Toronto publication as "an exclusive club for sophisticated couples and single men and women."

When arrested Friday night, Harrison possessed nude pictures of men and women in various poses and indecent letters, police said. Club members in all parts of the United States and Canada apparently exchanged the material among themselves, Dist. Atty. Stephen Smyk said.

Harrison pleaded innocent Saturday to a charge of possessing pornographic pictures and literature, a misdemeanor. City Court Judge Joseph W. Esworthy released him in $50 bail, and the case was postponed to today.

According to Smyk, membership in the Inner Circle cost $2. The club promised "gossip and a complete list of folks you will want to meet."

Harrison was arrested in a Binghamton hotel, after he showed allegedly pornographic material to police agents posing as a married couple interested in club activities. One of the agents was from the Binghamton police, the other from the Massachusetts State Police.

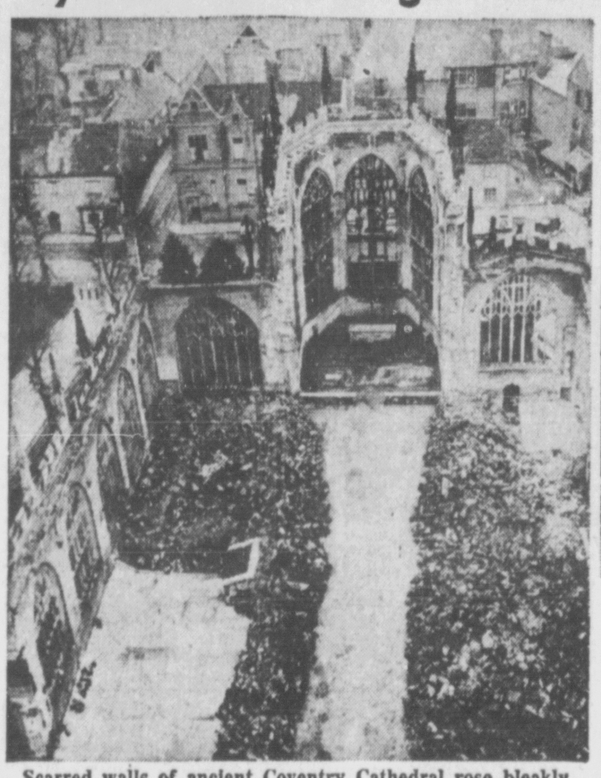

Smyk said assacnusetts police had supplied some of the information leading to the arrest.

Harrison, married and the father of two, appeared three years ago in Washington before the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

He suggested that traffic in pornography could be stamped out if code numbers were placed on all film and paper sold in the country. Thus it could be traced, he said.

Harrison said then that he had been stirred into action because a friend of his, a 14-year-old girl, had received a pornographic brochure in the mail. Harrison said the brochure "was enough to distort any mind, whether child or adult."

Scarred walls of ancient Coventry Cathedral rose bleakly above mounds of charred rubble after the raid in 1940.

This new just-completed cathedral has been reconstructed on the same site of the destroyed 600-year-old structure.

Ancient Coventry Cathedral, blasted into a burned-out shell by Nazi bombers during the blitz of 1940 which almost completely destroyed the British industrial city of Coventry, has been rebuilt of pink sandstone. It is scheduled to be consecrated on May 25. Cost of the new $3,500,000 edifice is being paid by the British government, public subscription and through donations from individuals all over the world.

Guido to Govern By Decree for At Least a Year

By ROMAN JIMENEZ

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Jose Maria Guido today was accused of returning dictatorship to Argentina by sending Congress into a long recess and suspending political parties. His purpose was to purge Peronists from political life.

Backed by the military chiefs who put him in to replace ousted President Arturo Frondizi three months ago, the mild-mannered small-town lawyer who said he never aspired to power now will govern by decree for at least a year.

Guido's dictatorship was confronted with an immediate test of strength as workers on the government-run railroads began a 24-hour strike at midnight to protest delays in payment of salaries and pensions.

Union leaders rebuffed attempts by Economics Minister Alvaro Asogaray to stall off the walkout to give the regime time to bring the nation out of what the government called a financial crisis of the most serious character.

Guido came under fire from leaders of his own Intransigent Radical party and the opposition groups for his orders recessing Congress for a year and sidelining political parties by ordering them to reorganize.

In his orders issued after a six-hour Cabinet session, Guido said a new Congress would be elected next March 31 and a presidential election would be held by October 1963.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service Association, writes the following article on fruit spreads and preserves:

Rhubarb and strawberries will soon be in plentiful supply, followed rapidly as the season advances, by other fruits that make delicious spreads and preserves.

It matters not whether your family favorite is jelly, marmalade, jam, conserve, butter, or preserves. You'll find each of them discussed in the new Cornell Extension Bulletin 1060. There is an outline of the steps to follow in making any of the spreads or preserves, and better still, an explanation of the reason behind each recommendation.

There is also an introductory section which tells how to prepare the fruit, sterilize the jars, and properly store the finished product.

Wide mouthed canning or freezing jars, pints or half-pints, with covers are recommended for all fruit spreads and preserves. Should jelly glasses be preferred, paraffin may be used for sealing.

The new Extension Bulletin 1060 is free to residents of the State. It can be obtained by writing the Home Demonstration Department, 220 Wall Street, U.P.O. Box 545. Kingston, N. Y.

Drama on War Situation Is Disappointing

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "Show of the Week" series, which has tried just about everything from documentary to musical comedy this season, with, for the most part, disappointing results, essayed an adult war drama Sunday night.

At least, I'm pretty sure it was an adult war drama: Sal Mineo in a week's growth of beard played a trigger-happy soldier and was permitted to use cuss-words a couple of times.

The show was called "A Sound of Hunting," adapted from a Broadway play of a number of seasons back. It didn't get far then and it was pretty static and talky Sunday night. It concerned a World War II Army squad in a forward position fretting about a comrade pinned down by an enemy machine gun. The squad members revealed their character in their reaction to the man's plight.

Can they withdraw without trying to save their comrade? Not if you know your war drama — or more likely, the characters. There were the wisecracking fellow with the heart of gold, the worrier, the homesick boy — all larger than life and all trite.

Old cowboys, it must be apparent, never die—not on television anyway. They don't even fade away. "Wyatt Earp," "Bat Masterson," Roy Rogers, Hopalong Cassidy, and most of the others who have finished their prime-time first runs are still very much around on the repeat circuit.

"The Rebel," which left ABC after one season, will pop up in repeats on NBC as Joey Bishop's summer replacement. Vintage half-hour "Gunsmoke" programs will be re-repeated on CBS for the summer, also in prime time. And now, "The Law of the Plainsman," the silly horse opera about an Indian marshal with a Harvard degree which had a short life some time back, will be repeated in "The Rifleman's" ABC spot during hot weather months.

Recommended tonight: "Ben Casey," ABC, 10-11 (EDT) — James Franciscus guest-stars in a story about a man with a head injury; "Tonight Show," NBC, 11:15-1 a.m.—Jan Murray starts a week as host.

Nursing Students Have Chat With The President

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Skidmore College students who are in training here to be nurses had a chat with President Kennedy Sunday.

The President was leaving the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation of the New York University Medical Center after a visit with his ailing father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

As he left he spotted three girls in white uniforms, with two young men. He stopped to talk with the group.

The girls, Jan Pink, 20, Linda Covich, 19, and Kitty Rosenbaum, 20, told him they were from Skidmore and in training at University Hospital for bachelor of science degrees in nursing.

The President asked them if they planned to become assistants to the young men who were their companions, and Miss Pink replied: "Yes. We hope so, some day."

The young men identified themselves to the President as Paul Fitzgerald, 23, of Rockville Centre, N.Y., and John Graef 22, of New York City, students at the NYU Medical School—and supporters of his medical care program.

The President said he was glad to hear it.

The last dodo is said to have died in 1689.

RETURNS TO COLLEGE—Army Secretary Elvis Stahr Jr. has been named president of Indiana University. He takes office July 1, one day after effective resignation date as Army secretary. Stahr, Rhodes scholar and professional educational administrator, was president of West Virginia University before taking the Army post.

Contempt Ruled Out in Case of 6 Probed as Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court overturned today the contempt convictions of six persons who balked at answering questions from congressional committees investigating Communist activities.

The high tribunal, in an opinion by Justice Stewart, said the convictions had to be set aside because the indictments returned by the grand jury against the six failed to identify the subject under congressional subcommittee inquiry at the time each witness was interrogated.

Stewart said Congress had expressly provided that no one could be prosecuted for refusal to answer questions of congressional investigatrs except upon indictment by a grand jury.

"This court has never decided whether the indictment must identify the subject which was under inquiry at the time of the defendant's alleged default or refusal to answer," Stewart continued.

He then stated that the court today was holding that the indictment must contain such an averment, and for this reason the judgments against the six had to be reversed.

Red Hook Mayor Would Reinstate Cop

Reinstatement of Melvin Jones as patrolman in the Village of Red Hook, is urged by Mayor Oliver Rider, who said Saturday he would ask support of residents of the community tonight at a meeting in the Red Hook village hall.

Mayor Rider said the vote of two of the three members of the Red Hook Board of Police Commissioners resulted in Jones' dismissal.

Making known his move to obtain public support to have Jones reinstated to the post he held many years, Mayor Rider said the turnout of citizens at tonight's meeting will determine his future plans to have the former patrolman reinstated.

"I hope to find grounds to obtain the reinstatement of Melvin Jones as village patrolman," Rider said.

Airman Hurt in Crash Transferred to Base

Walter Arps, 19 of Milwaukee, Wisc., a member of the Air Force, who was injured early Saturday in a car crash at Lake Katrine was transferred to Stewart Air Force Base dispensary.

Kingston Troopers said Arps, who is attending school at the local International Business Machines Corp., plant, suffered scalp wounds and was admitted to Kingston Hospital when his car overturned on Route 9W and Neighborhood Road. He was issued a summons for failure to keep right and must appear before Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly on Wednesday.

Kingston state police said Arps was proceding south on Route 9W, failed to negotiate a right turn and his car rolled over coming to rest on all four wheels but facing north.

Called Cruel Hoax on Trusting

Two Negro Mothers, 20 Children Bound for Mass.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Negro mothers and their 20 children were aboard buses today on the way from Little Rock, Ark., to Hyannis, Mass., where a selectman termed such "reverse freedom rides" a cruel hoax on trusting people.

It was the largest Negro group sent to Cape Cod by the segregationist Capital Citizens Council since the start of the one-way ticket North campaign.

President Kennedy has a summer home in the Hyannis area.

Victoria Bell, 36, and her 11 youngsters were put aboard a bus Sunday by Amis Guthridge, president of the Citizens Council. In addition to providing tickets costing $307 he gave her $60 for spending money.

Mrs. Bell said she was separated from her husband and unable to find steady work in Little Rock. She hoped to obtain a job as a presser for a commercial laundry in Massachusetts. The children with her ranged in age from 2 to 14 and included 3-year-old twins.

About five hours later Lela Mae Williams of Huttig, Ark., and her nine children were escorted to a bus. Guthridge paid the $206 fare and also presented her with $60 for expenses.

Mrs. Williams said she applied for the free passage because she was out of work as a domestic helper and wanted to find a full-time job.

At Hyannis, Selectman E. Thomas Murphy said, "We'll do our best to care for them. But if this keeps up and we have to put people on welfare, the state will have to take some sort of action. We just can't keep on this way."

Three Negro men reached Hyannis earlier from Little Rock. Two Negro couples and their five small children arrived Saturday on one-way tickets provided by the White Citizens Council at Shreveport, La.

Murphy said the White Citizens Council program which sent Negroes to Hyannis was "a cruel hoax on these trusting people."

The Rev. Kenneth R. Warren, minister of the Barnstable (Mass.) Unitarian church, said, "The people who saw the group arrive Saturday were shocked. They are being used in a heartless way and this word has got to get back to the people of the South so they won't allow themselves to be used in this way."

The minister said the couples had been led to believe housing and jobs were waiting for them because "of the lies told by the White Citizens Council. It was an awful blow to them to find Hyannis is just a small resort town without manufacturing or facilities to provide for them."

Says Democrats Lack Issues and State Candidate

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Democrats lack positive issues and a candidate for governor "worthy of serious consideration," the Republican state chairman says.

"They can't dredge up any halfway plausibly negative arguments against Gov. Rockefeller's dynamic leadership and record of soundly progressive achievement," Chairman L. Judson Morhouse said in a statement Saturday..

Morhouse said more Democrats were running away from the party's gubernatorial nomination than were running for it.

Republican Gov. Rockefeller is up for reelection in the fall.

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy filled Madison Square Garden twice in a weekend visit that was worth a million dollars to the Democratic party and a still undetermined amount of support for his medical care for the aged plan.

He also dedicated a $40-million dollar housing project, and visited five times with his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who is recovering from a stroke at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

THEY ARE GOING TO LIVE IN A TRAILER

Q: My fiance and I are planning to be married in two months and as my husband-to-be's work takes him to different parts of the country, we will live in a trailer. It is completely furnished except for a few odds and ends. We have no space for anything that is not strictly utilitarian and even these have to fit into the exact spaces available. We are having a large wedding and will no doubt receive many wedding presents, many of which will be useless to us. I was wondering if there is some way in which we could let it be known that we would prefer to receive money and buy the things we need with it.

A: I am sorry, but it would not be correct to ask for money as a present except from members of your family or a very near relative.

Letting Others Pass

Q: When seated in a theatre, is it necessary to rise in order to let others pass or is it permissible to remain seated and let them squeeze by?

A: If by merely turning your knees sideways there is enough space for them to pass, it is not necessary to rise, especially if the play or movie has started. But if there is so little space that they have to step over your knees, you must, of course, stand and sit down again, quickly, so as not to cut off the view of all who are seated behind you.

Her Ex-Mother-In-Law's Funeral

Q: I've received word from my ex-husband that his mother has just passed away. I was always very fond of her but since my divorce had not seen her. Shall I go to the funeral, and if so, may I go with my new husband or should I go with my children alone?

A: With your children alone. In fact, taking them to their grandmother's funeral is an especial reason why you may properly go. The presence of your second husband would be in very bad taste.

Onteora Group Hears Building Progress Report

The Steering Committee of the Onteora Citizens Committee for school buildings was the guest of the board of education at the Onteora Library May 15 for the purpose of hearing the current status of proposed referendums for school buildings. Chairman Bob Nussbaum of West Hurley was accompanied by the following members of his Steering Committee: Richard Langham, Woodstock; Martin Rubin, Shandaken; Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Woodstock; William Dandisman, Phoenicia; Ed Goddard, and David Fox, West Hurley. The board advised the Committee that preliminary work for the State Education Department had been completed and that this information was in the hands of the Architects Clark & Warren of Poughkeepsie. The architects are currently completing preliminary drawings for the new building in Phoenicia, an addition to the high school building in Boiceville, and an addition to the elementary building in Woodstock. Plans for the proposed building in West Hurley are not as yet underway, pending the selection of a site in that area. At the moment, approximately a dozen sites are being considered and prices and an addition for each have been obtained. In addition to these sites, Raymond Cruthers, chairman of the board of education Building Committee, informed the group that he was investigating the possibility of using some New York City reservoir property which might be available in the West Hurley area.

It was pointed out that if sufficient material is available to the board at their next regular meeting tonight, some action would be taken to secure an option on a site in the Town of Hurley. The Board also advised the Steering Committee that a referendum would take place probably during October of 1962, assuming that site had been settled and that the architect had had sufficient time to prepare the preliminary plans.

Dr. Sullivan advised the group that the current building plans would be based on an average elementary class size of 27 pupils per room. He also indicated that plans were to continue half-day kindergarten sessions in the district as a permanent arrangement, thus saving instructional services of a number of teachers at this level. It was pointed out that kindergarten sessions when on full day utilized time for naps, for lunch programs, and for activities which may be difficult to justify in a district which is trying to build adequate facilities for all pupils in the district.

Inness, Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. Lamont W. Marvin and Mrs. Ernest Muller. Kennedy attended a private Mass on Sunday morning with his 73-year-old father and his oldest sister, Mrs. Sargent Shriver. The mass was said in the living room of "Horizon House," a cottage on the grounds of the institute.

A cheering crowd estimated at 20,000 attended the dedication Saturday of the West Side housing project, which was sponsored chiefly by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

Cow in Mine Shaft Gives All Hard Time

SHIPLEY, England (AP) — It took firemen with a mobile crane police and civil defense workers all day to get Melspot back on her feet.

Farmer Edward Pilkington's 2-year-old Friesian cow fell 30 feet down an abandoned mine shaft Sunday.

The police, firemen and civil defense all worked hard, but Melspot stayed below.

A man from the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals finally went down the shaft and, after working three hours, got a sling under the cow.

She was pulled up unhurt.

Look to Hat as Clue In Officers' Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Police have a black felt hat they say may prove instrumental in running down the two bandits who shot and killed a pair of detectives during a holdup Friday.

The black hat, believed dropped by one of the killers, was traced Sunday to a Brooklyn haberdasher who was able to furnish police with what they described as a definite lead.

Detectives Luke J. Fallon, 56, and John P. Finnegan, 26, were killed in a brief exchange of bullets when they burst in on a holdup in a Brooklyn candy store. The bandits escaped with 3,000 to $4,000.

Boy, 3, Is Hurt In New Salem As Autos Collide

A three-year-old boy was injured Sunday afternoon in a two-car accident on New Salem Road when two cars were involved in an accident. He was treated at Benedictine Hospital for a nose injury.

Mildred Frances LaTorre, 31, of Rt. 5, Box 325, Kingston, was driving a car owned by Albert Daniel LaTorre west on the New Salem Road when she stopped and attempted to make a left turn into a driveway. Also traveling west was a car owned by George Goldfarb, of 235 Fearl Street, Kingston, driven by Elmer Canastra, 7 Canal Street, Port Ewen.

Timothy Canastra, age 3, received an injury to his nose when he struck the back of the seat.

The Canastra car struck the LaTorre car on the front left fender. Both cars were damaged about the fenders.

Deputies Thomas Mayone and Ernest Ahlberg conducted an investigation.

Motorist Injured In Route 9 Mishap

A 60-year-old motorist was injured at 1:20 p. m. Saturday when his 1954 car went out of control on Route 9 in the village of Rhinebeck and crashed into a tree.

Trooper Richard Fairchild said Elmer E. Stahlman, of Averill Park, was rounding a curve near the state police station and struck the tree. He was treated at Northern Dutchess Hospital for a broken right wrist.

THEY ARE GOING TO LIVE IN A TRAILER

Q: My fiance and I are planning to be married in two months and as my husband-to-be's work takes him to different parts of the country, we will live in a trailer. It is completely furnished except for a few odds and ends. We have no space for anything that is not strictly utilitarian and even these have to fit into the exact spaces available. We are having a large wedding and will no doubt receive many wedding presents, many of which will be useless to us. I was wondering if there is some way in which we could let it be known that we would prefer to receive money and buy the things we need with it.

A: I am sorry, but it would not be correct to ask for money as a present except from members of your family or a very near relative.

Letting Others Pass

Q: When seated in a theatre, is it necessary to rise in order to let others pass or is it permissible to remain seated and let them squeeze by?

A: If by merely turning your knees sideways there is enough space for them to pass, it is not necessary to rise, especially if the play or movie has started. But if there is so little space that they have to step over your knees, you must, of course, stand and sit down again, quickly, so as not to cut off the view of all who are seated behind you.

Her Ex-Mother-In-Law's Funeral

Q: I've received word from my ex-husband that his mother has just passed away. I was always very fond of her but since my divorce had not seen her. Shall I go to the funeral, and if so, may I go with my new husband or should I go with my children alone?

A: With your children alone. In fact, taking them to their grandmother's funeral is an especial reason why you may properly go. The presence of your second husband would be in very bad taste.

Onteora Group Hears Building Progress Report

The Steering Committee of the Onteora Citizens Committee for school buildings was the guest of the board of education at the Onteora Library May 15 for the purpose of hearing the current status of proposed referendums for school buildings. Chairman Bob Nussbaum of West Hurley was accompanied by the following members of his Steering Committee: Richard Langham, Woodstock; Martin Rubin, Shandaken; Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Woodstock; William Dandisman, Phoenicia; Ed Goddard, and David Fox, West Hurley. The board advised the Committee that preliminary work for the State Education Department had been completed and that this information was in the hands of the Architects Clark & Warren of Poughkeepsie. The architects are currently completing preliminary drawings for the new building in Phoenicia, an addition to the high school building in Boiceville, and an addition to the elementary building in Woodstock. Plans for the proposed building in West Hurley are not as yet underway, pending the selection of a site in that area. At the moment, approximately a dozen sites are being considered and prices and an addition for each have been obtained. In addition to these sites, Raymond Cruthers, chairman of the board of education Building Committee, informed the group that he was investigating the possibility of using some New York City reservoir property which might be available in the West Hurley area.

It was pointed out that if sufficient material is available to the board at their next regular meeting tonight, some action would be taken to secure an option on a site in the Town of Hurley. The Board also advised the Steering Committee that a referendum would take place probably during October of 1962, assuming that site had been settled and that the architect had had sufficient time to prepare the preliminary plans.

Dr. Sullivan advised the group that the current building plans would be based on an average elementary class size of 27 pupils per room. He also indicated that plans were to continue half-day kindergarten sessions in the district as a permanent arrangement, thus saving instructional services of a number of teachers at this level. It was pointed out that kindergarten sessions when on full day utilized time for naps, for lunch programs, and for activities which may be difficult to justify in a district which is trying to build adequate facilities for all pupils in the district.

Guild Shop Art Sales

Katharine Wangler, manager of the Guild Shop of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, reports the sale of 21 paintings and prints in the last few months. In some instances, several by the same artist were purchased. The works in the sale were by the following artists: Elfriede Borkmann, Earle Winslow, Marion Greenwood, Richard Chambers Munsell, John Galvin, Gioja Webster, Rosella Hartman, Anton Otto Fischer, Maxwell Houghland, John Pike, Susan Hesselbarth, Kurt Sluizer and Mary Alice MacArthur.

Flower Arrangement

Among the members of the Woodstock Garden Club and St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, who attended a Japanese flower arrangement benefit at the Church of the Ascension, West Park, last week, were Mrs. Joseph K. Inness, Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. Lamont W. Marvin and Mrs. Ernest Muller. Following dessert and coffee, the charming arrangements were made by Masako Noda, who also demonstrated on a living model the ritual of dressing in the native Japanese costume.

Skip Oliver Has 'Wild Toss' on Her Final Ball

Dunkirk Duo Has 1146 Top Score in Doubles Approved

A "wild" toss on the last ball cost Skip Oliver of Nassau County the singles lead and an individual record in Class A as the 29th annual New York State Women's Bowling Tournament completed its next to last week of action.

Miss Oliver, a flashy kegler with a good flair for pleasing the crowd, started her singles bid with a 201 game and then zoomed to 259 in her middle effort. Going into the final frame of the third game, Miss Oliver needed a double and nine pins. She got the double and then came the bad toss. The ball missed the head pin, leaving 1-3-9 and making her a close second instead of either a tie or with a record breaking performance. Barbara Korthas of Syracuse still holds the lead with her 679, hit several weeks ago.

The other noteworthy event over the weekend was the official approval of the 1146 doubles score, hit the previous week by Frances Waligara and Ruth Green of Dunkirk. Their first place score was held by tournament officials until an investigation was completed over the fact that they had allegedly rolled a practice game prior to the Saturday squad started to bowl last week.

The Dunkirk pair now replaces Jean Healey and Ruby Hunter of Albany in the top doubles spot in Class A. The two from Albany had scored 1135 and their lead had survived several weeks of competition.

Ties in B Singles

Rose Hyder of Corning moved into a tie for top spot in the Class B singles, shooting a 579. Mary Zimmerman of Buffalo is the co-leader in the B singles, having shot the same score earlier.

In Class C singles, Pat Conrad of Newburgh stroked 556, moving her into second position behind the 565, made by Lee Roy of Buffalo.

There were changes in the Class B doubles. Emma Fedelli and Rose Papoleoni of Solvay banged out a 1034 for second place and Rose Vitello and Mildred Dimmer of Dunkirk had 1021, placing them third. The leaders are still Estella Shields and Carrie Wallace of Brooklyn, with a 1040 score.

New leaders in the Class C doubles are Irma Uppinghouse and Pat Conrad of Newburgh with 982. They easily displaced Jenny Cinelli and Dot Golden of Troy, who rolled 940.

The all-events leader is still Mrs. Korthas. Her 1770 survived another weekend. There were no changes in the top five of the all-events standings.

Amazing Mets Sweep Braves; Bo Belinsky Hurls Two-Hitter

Rally in Both Games to Move Into 8th Place

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They haven't started printing the tickets yet, but some of the more frivolous types are starting to talk about a subway series.

Of course, there's always the chance the New York Yankees won't make it, but how about these Mets. The darlings of New York—an odd-lot collection of expendables—suddenly are the hottest team in basball.

Casey Stengel's amazin' Mets—who must be gasping for air in the giddy, rarified heights of eighth place in the National League—swept a double header from Milwaukee's stricken Braves, 7-6 and 9-6 Sunday making their recent record seven victories in nine starts.

Giants Split

San Francisco's leading Giants split a pair, losing to Houston 6-5 in the first and taking the second 7-4; St. Louis replaced Los Angeles in second place with a 4-3 edge over the Dodgers; Pittsburgh trounced Cincinnati 8-2 behind Vern Law, and Chicago's Ken Hubbs stroked eight hits in the Cubs' two victories over Philadelphia, 6-4 and 11-2.

But the biggest surprise has to be Stengel's Mets. There is still an air of the Keystone Cops about this crew that lost nine straight at the start of the season—they flounder about and sometimes run into each other. But somehow Stengel, the old master manipulator, has them winning. They've won nine of their last 12 and are 12-10 since the opening string of losses — which would be good enough for a first-division berth.

The Mets trailed 5-1 in the first game and 3-1 in the second. Roy McMillan's two-run error in the eighth let in the deciding runs in the opener. Home runs by Frank Thomas, Charlie Neal and Felix Mantilla featured the winning rally in the nightcap.

Thomas, in addition to his 11th homer, had three other hits in the day's work and drove in five runs. Lefties Ken MacKenzie (2-1) and Al Jackson (2-4) were the winners.

The five-hit pitching of Bob Bruce (2-1) and a four-run third inning were the keys to Houston's first-game triumph over Juan Marichal (7-3) and San Francisco. Giant lefty Billy Pierce (7-0) got the benefit of a six-run first inning and had little trouble in winning the nightcap, though touched for a two-run homer by Bob Aspromonte.

Stan Musial, who got the 3,431st hit of his career for a National League record Saturday, sat out St. Louis' game at Los Angeles, and the Cards completed the sweep of the three-game set. They provided Curt Simmons (6-1) with a 4-0 lead in the sixth and his seven-hit pitching made it stand up.

Law Wins Comeback

Vern Law, making a comeback from a shoulder injury, got a standing ovation from the Pittsburg crowd after going the distance in beating Cincinnati. He spaced eight hits in winning hs frst game since June 11, 1961, and went the distance for the first time since Sept. 18, 1960. He has lost one this season.

Hubbs, a rookie second baseman for the Cubs, had eight singles in 10 times at bat as the free-swinging Cubs collected a total of 27 hits. Lou Brock had a grand slam homer to help rookie Cal Koonce (2-0) win the first. Bob Buhl (2-2) had a four-hitter and was backed up by homers by Willie Williams, George Altman and Ernie Banks in the second.

Angels Stop Bosox in Pair; Yankees Split

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

It is a little early but Bo Belinsky has to be the people's choice to pitch the All-Star game. Make it both of them. The way the Los Angeles Angels are flying he might even make it to the World Series.

If Bo was bothered by any "no-hit game jinx" he dunked that 8-ball in the corner pocket Sunday when he threw a two-hitter at the Boston Red Sox. It was his second victory but first complete game since the no-hitter against Baltimore May 5.

Five Angel pitchers teamed up to check the Red Sox in the 5-3 opener but it was lefty Bo all by himself in the 1-0 second game. The colorful rookie threw out six batters and allowed only three balls to be hit to the outfield. There was not any no-hit suspense about this one for Pete Runnels, the leadoff man in the first, beat out a slow roller for a hit. Rookie Bob Tillman's double in the fourth was the other hit. Lee Thomas' single drove in Leon Wagner with the only run in the third.

Breaks Homer Mark

Cleveland broke a New York Yankee record by boosting its homer total to 25 in the last eight games but had to settle for a split with Detroit. The Indians, who remained tied for the American League lead with New York, hit eight of the 12 homers that were blasted in the doubleheader—two each by Jerry Kindall and Chuck Essegian. Bubba Phillips' ninth-inning single won the opener for Cleveland 7-6 but two homers by Al Kaline powered an 8-6 Detroit attack in the second.

Minnesota scored two in the 13th for an even break at Yankee Stadium after New York won the opener 4-3 on Tom Tresh's single with the bases loaded in the ninth. Zoilo Versalles' single drove in one run for the Twins and Versalles scored from second while the Yanks were failing to complete a double play for the other score in their 4-2 second game margin.

Chicago took two from Baltimore by identical 8-3 scores on fine pitching performances by John Buzhardt and Ray Herbert. Al Smith was the batting hero with two homers.

Manny Jimenez's homer gave Kansas City a 1-0 margin over Washington on Ed Rakow's five-hit pitching in the first game but the Senators struck back 7-5 in the second game, opening up a 5-0 lead on Jim Archer in the first two innings.

Kaline Hits Hard

Kaline had quite a day for himself in that doubleheader at Cleveland. The Tigers' slugger had six hits in nine at bats, including the homers, two doubles and two singles and drove in five runs. The homers boosted his league-leading total to 12. Bob Allen won the first game over Hank Aguirre and Jerry Casale took the second over Sam McDowell.

Jim Coates and Ray Moore, winner and loser respectively in the first game at New York, switched roles in the second game when Moore was benefitted by the 13th inning attack on Coates.

Al Smith, returning to the starting lineup with the White Sox after a week's absence due to a thigh injury, hit homers off loser Mily Pappas and Art Quirk in the first game, easing Buzhardt's way to his fifth victory. Bob Sadowski homered in the second game, lost by Chuck Estrada.

Judge Is Named For Horse Show

Ralph Moore will be judge for the Joe Lamphere Memorial Horse Show to be presented by the Lowlands Ranch Club at the club ring, Lake Katrine June 13.

A native of Shawnee, Okla., Moore now resides in Rexford. He is a charter member of the National Quarter Horse Association of Houston, Tex. and the Shawnee Roundup Club. He is also president of the New York State Quarter Horse Association Inc. and has done a great deal of rodeo work.

Yonkers Raceway Begins 62-Night Harness Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two triple crown events worth a total of $225,000 and a $190,000 three-race pacing series highlight the 62-night spring meeting starting tonight at Yonkers Raceway.

The big-money events are the $115,000 Cane Futurity May 31, the second leg of pacing's triple crown; the $110,000 Yonkers Futurity, July 19 first game of the triple crown for trotters; the $50,000 International Pace at 1½ Miles June 14; the $65,000 Good Time Pace at 1¼ miles June 21, and the $75,000 National Championship Pace at 2 miles June 28.

Exclusively for 4-year-olds are the $32,500 Hilltop Trot May 30, the $37,500 Empire Pace July 26, and the $50,000 final of the Harness Tracks of America Pace July 5, all at the 1¼-mile distance.

The one-mile Cane and Yonkers futurities are for 3-year-olds.

Roosevelt Raceway closed its 53-night meeting Saturday night with a total pari-mutuel handle of $97,457,670. The attendance for the meeting was 1,218,615.

Williamm Haughton of Glen Head, N.Y., drove the most winners at the Westbury track—39, Stanley Dancer of New Egypt, N.J., won the most money, $158,000. Dancer had 33 winners.

Stephan Smith set a world record for a mile and a quarter on the closing-night program when he won the $25,000 Summer Festival Pace in 2:30 2-5. The old record of 2:31 3-5 was shared by Good Time, Bye Bye Byrd and Adios Butler, all now retired to stud.

Stephan Smith paid $14.70. He scored by a neck over False Step, with Henry T. Adios, the favorite, another nose back.

The co-featured one-mile $25,000 Handicap Trot went to Porterhouse in 2:01 2-5. Regal Pick was second and Silver Song, third.

Mr. Childs ($10.80) registered the fastest time of the spring meeting at Buffalo Raceway in the featured $4,000 Invitational Pace. He paced the mile in 2:01 3-5 before a crowd of 8,361.

Ycaza is Suspended After Preakness Ride

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, (AP) — Manuel Ycaza, one of the all-time bad boys of thoroughbred racing, is headed for another enforced vacation from the saddle as a result of his rousing stretch ride aboard Ridan in Saturday's Preakness.

Stewards at Pimlico race course suspended the 25-year-old Panamanian 10 days for unfair tactics Sunday and recommended that he be set down for an additional 20 days. The Maryland State Racing Commission will meet Wednesday to consider the recommendation.

Ycaza lodged the first foul claim since the Preakness was inaugurated in 1873, contending Greek Money bumped Ridan in the furious stretch drive.

The Brandywine Stables' Greek Money got up in the final strides to nose out the tiring Ridan in the race, second leg of the Triple Crown.

Kentucky Derby winner Decidedly swung wide on the final turn, but battled up to fifth place before fading to eighth where he finished.

George D. Widener's Jaipur, held out of the Derby to point for the Preakness, and the favorite with the crowd of 33,854, led the early part of the race but collapsed to 11th.

Since Pimlico closed Saturday, the stewards were powerless to suspend Ycaza more than 10 days, but Flanagan said if they had the authority "we would have given Ycaza the full 30-day suspension now."

Since he began riding in the United States in 1957, Ycaza has been suspended 393 days—not including the latest grounding.

Skip Oliver Has 'Wild Toss' on Her Final Ball

Dunkirk Duo Has 1146 Top Score in Doubles Approved

A "wild" toss on the last ball cost Skip Oliver of Nassau County the singles lead and an individual record in Class A as the 29th annual New York State Women's Bowling Tournament completed its next to last week of action.

Miss Oliver, a flashy kegler with a good flair for pleasing the crowd, started her singles bid with a 201 game and then zoomed to 259 in her middle effort. Going into the final frame of the third game, Miss Oliver needed a double and nine pins. She got the double and then came the bad toss. The ball missed the head pin, leaving 1-3-9 and making her a close second instead of either a tie or with a record breaking performance. Barbara Korthas of Syracuse still holds the lead with her 679, hit several weeks ago.

The other noteworthy event over the weekend was the official approval of the 1146 doubles score, hit the previous week by Frances Waligara and Ruth Green of Dunkirk. Their first place score was held by tournament officials until an investigation was completed over the fact that they had allegedly rolled a practice game prior to the Saturday squad started to bowl last week.

The Dunkirk pair now replaces Jean Healey and Ruby Hunter of Albany in the top doubles spot in Class A. The two from Albany had scored 1135 and their lead had survived several weeks of competition.

Ties in B Singles

Rose Hyder of Corning moved into a tie for top spot in the Class B singles, shooting a 579. Mary Zimmerman of Buffalo is the co-leader in the B singles, having shot the same score earlier.

In Class C singles, Pat Conrad of Newburgh stroked 556, moving her into second position behind the 565, made by Lee Roy of Buffalo.

There were changes in the Class B doubles. Emma Fedelli and Rose Papoleoni of Solvay banged out a 1034 for second place and Rose Vitello and Mildred Dimmer of Dunkirk had 1021, placing them third. The leaders are still Estella Shields and Carrie Wallace of Brooklyn, with a 1040 score.

New leaders in the Class C doubles are Irma Uppinghouse and Pat Corrad of Newburgh with 982. They easily displaced Jenny Cinelli and Dot Golden of Troy, who rolled 940.

The all-events leader is still Mrs. Korthas. Her 1770 survived another weekend. There were no changes in the top five of the all-events standings.

Amazing Mets Sweep Braves; Bo Belinsky Hurls Two-Hitter

Rally in Both Games to Move Into 8th Place

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They haven't started printing the tickets yet, but some of the more frivolous types are starting to talk about a subway series.

Of course, there's always the chance the New York Yankees won't make it, but how about these Mets. The darlings of New York—an odd-lot collection of expendables—suddenly are the hottest team in basball.

Casey Stengel's amazin' Mets—who must be gasping for air in the giddy, rarified heights of eighth place in the National League—swept a double header from Milwaukee's stricken Braves, 7-6 and 9-6 Sunday making their recent record seven victories in nine starts.

Giants Split

San Francisco's leading Giants split a pair, losing to Houston 6-5 in the first and taking the second 7-4; St. Louis replaced Los Angeles in second place with a 4-3 edge over the Dodgers; Pittsburgh trounced Cincinnati 8-2 behind Vern Law, and Chicago's Ken Hubbs stroked eight hits in the Cubs' two victories over Philadelphia, 6-4 and 11-2.

But the biggest surprise has to be Stengel's Mets. There is still an air of the Keystone Cops about this crew that lost nine straight at the start of the season—they flounder about and sometimes run into each other. But somehow Stengel, the old master manipulator, has them winning. They've won nine of their last 12 and are 12-10 since the opening string of losses — which would be good enough for a first-division berth.

The Mets trailed 5-1 in the first game and 3-1 in the second. Roy McMillan's two-run error in the eighth let in the deciding runs in the opener. Home runs by Frank Thomas, Charlie Neal and Felix Mantilla featured the winning rally in the nightcap.

Thomas, in addition to his 11th homer, had three other hits in the day's work and drove in five runs. Lefties Ken MacKenzie (2-1) and Al Jackson (2-4) were the winners.

The five-hit pitching of Bob Bruce (2-1) and a four-run third inning were the keys to Houston's first-game triumph over Juan Marichal (7-3) and San Francisco. Giant lefty Billy Pierce (7-0) got the benefit of a six-run first inning and had little trouble in winning the nightcap, though touched for a two-run homer by Bob Aspromonte.

Stan Musial, who got the 3,431st hit of his career for a National League record Saturday, sat out St. Louis' game at Los Angeles, and the Cards completed the sweep of the three-game set. They provided Curt Simmons (6-1) with a 4-0 lead in the sixth and his seven-hit pitching made it stand up.

Law Wins Comeback

Vern Law, making a comeback from a shoulder injury, got a standing ovation from the Pittsburg crowd after going the distance in beating Cincinnati. He spaced eight hits in winning his frst game since June 11, 1961, and went the distance for the first time since Sept. 18, 1960. He has lost one this season.

Hubbs, a rookie second baseman for the Cubs, had eight singles in 10 times at bat as the free-swinging Cubs collected a total of 27 hits. Lou Brock had a grand slam homer to help rookie Cal Koonce (2-0) win the first. Bob Buhl (2-2) had a four-hitter and was backed up by homers by Willie Williams, George Altman and Ernie Banks in the second.

Down on the Farm

PARIS, Ky. (NEA) — Samuel Croft Register bought the 300-acre thoroughbred farm near Paris of the late W. Alton Jones for a reported $1 million.

Angels Stop Bosox in Pair; Yankees Split

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

It is a little early but Bo Belinsky has to be the people's choice to pitch the All-Star game. Make it both of them. The way the Los Angeles Angels are flying he might even make it to the World Series.

If Bo was bothered by any "no-hit game jinx" he dunked that 8-ball in the corner pocket Sunday when he threw a two-hitter at the Boston Red Sox. It was his second victory but first complete game since the no-hitter against Baltimore May 5.

Five Angel pitchers teamed up to check the Red Sox in the 5-3 opener but it was lefty Bo all by himself in the 1-0 second game. The colorful rookie threw out six batters and allowed only three balls to be hit to the outfield. There was not any no-hit suspense about this one for Pete Runnels, the leadoff man in the first, beat out a slow roller for a hit. Rookie Bob Tillman's double in the fourth was the other hit. Lee Thomas' single drove in Leon Wagner with the only run in the third.

Breaks Homer Mark

Cleveland broke a New York Yankee record by boosting its homer total to 25 in the last eight games but had to settle for a split with Detroit. The Indians, who remained tied for the American League lead with New York, hit eight of the 12 homers that were blasted in the doubleheader—two each by Jerry Kindall and Chuck Essegian. Bubba Phillips' ninth-inning single won the opener for Cleveland 7-6 but two homers by Al Kaline powered an 8-6 Detroit attack in the second.

Minnesota scored two in the 13th for an even break at Yankee Stadium after New York won the opener 4-3 on Tom Tresh's single with the bases loaded in the ninth. Zoilo Versalles' single drove in one run for the Twins and Versalles scored from second while the Yanks were failing to complete a double play for the other score in their 4-2 second game margin.

Chicago took two from Baltimore by identical 8-3 scores on fine pitching performances by John Buzhardt and Ray Herbert. Al Smith was the batting hero with two homers.

Manny Jimenez's homer gave Kansas City a 1-0 margin over Washington on Ed Rakow's five-hit pitching in the first game but the Senators struck back 7-5 in the second game, opening up a 5-0 lead on Jim Archer in the first two innings.

Kaline Hits Hard

Kaline had quite a day for himself in that doubleheader at Cleveland. The Tigers' slugger had six hits in nine at bats, including the homers, two doubles and two singles and drove in five runs. The homers boosted his league-leading total to 12. Bob Allen won the first game over Hank Aguirre and Jerry Casale took the second over Sam McDowell.

Jim Coates and Ray Moore, winner and loser respectively in the first game at New York, switched roles in the second game when Moore was benefitted by the 13th inning attack on Coates.

Al Smith, returning to the starting lineup with the White Sox after a week's absence due to a thigh injury, hit homers off loser Mily Pappas and Art Quirk in the first game, easing Buzhardt's way to his fifth victory. Bob Sadowski homered in the second game, lost by Chuck Estrada.

Judge Is Named For Horse Show

Ralph Moore will be judge for the Joe Lamphere Memorial Horse Show to be presented by the Lowlands Ranch Club at the club ring, Lake Katrine June 13.

A native of Shawnee, Okla., Moore now resides in Rexford. He is a charter member of the National Quarter Horse Association of Houston, Tex. and the Shawnee Roundup Club. He is also president of the New York State Quarter Horse Association Inc. and has done a great deal of rodeo work.

Ycaza is Suspended After Preakness Ride

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, (AP) — Manuel Ycaza, one of the all-time bad boys of thoroughbred racing, is headed for another enforced vacation from the saddle as a result of his rousing stretch ride aboard Ridan in Saturday's Preakness.

Stewards at Pimlico race course suspended the 25-year-old Panamanian 10 days for unfair tactics Sunday and recommended that he be set down for an additional 20 days. The Maryland State Racing Commission will meet Wednesday to consider the recommendation.

Ycaza also was fined $200 for making what the stewards called a "frivolous claim of foul" against Greek Money, which nosed out Ridan for the $135,800 first prize.

Ycaza lodged the first foul claim since the Preakness was inaugurated in 1873, contending Greek Money bumped Ridan in the furious stretch drive.

The Brandywine Stables' Greek Money got up in the final strides to nose out the tiring Ridan in the race, second leg of the Triple Crown.

Kentucky Derby winner Decidedly swung wide on the final turn, but battled up to fifth place before fading to eighth where he finished.

George D. Widener's Jaipur, held out of the Derby to point for the Preakness, and the favorite with the crowd of 33,854, led the early part of the race but collapsed to 11th.

Since Pimlico closed Saturday, the stewards were powerless to suspend Ycaza more than 10 days, but Flanagan said if they had the authority "we would have given Ycaza the full 30-day suspension now."

Since he began riding in the United States in 1957, Ycaza has been suspended 393 days—not including the latest grounding.

Gordon Krajna Wins 2nd Straight College Tennis Tourney

New Paltz Star Captures Title In Cortland Play

Gordon Krajna, the tennis ace for the State University of Education at New Paltz, won a second consecutive State Colege net tournament over the weekend at Cortland. He stopped Ron Rienzo of the host school, 10-8, 6-2, in the finals.

A senior at New Paltz, Krajna was defending his championship. In four years of varsity competition, he has captured 41 of 42 matches, bowing for the first time a week ago. This championship was gained after two days of competition between eight of the top state colleges in New York.

Rienzo got a measure of revenge in the doubles when he teamed with Neil Seiden of Cortland to whip Krajna and Bob Dilman of New Paltz, 3-6 6-2 5-3, in the championship match.

Another New Paltz performer, Ron Mutchnik, finished fourth in singles competition. He was beaten, 3-6 6-2, 6-2, by Seiden of the host school.

Krajna has been the big point man for the New Paltz tennis team over the past four seasons. The team had a long winning streak snapped several weeks ago.

Sport Club, Poughkeepsie Play to 2-2 Soccer Deadlock

Albany A. C. Now Tied for Top Spot After 8-1 Victory

After scoring two goals in the first half, Kingston Sport Club players had to settle for a 2-2 tie at Poughkeepsie against the Blue and White team yesterday.

Albany Athletic Club stopped the Schenectady Sons of Italy, 8-1, in another Central New York Soccer game to move into a first place tie with the locals. Since there are only four weeks remaining, the battle figures to go right to the finish.

Alex Dirks put Kingston ahead with a neat goal at the 30 minute mark. He received a pass from Hans Wolf. Five minutes later it was Reiner Schwebel who tallied, shooting a bullet into the Poughkeepsie net.

The home side sliced the lead in half with a penalty shot and at the 74 minute mark, Lou Santos knotted the count.

The Sport Club had several chances in the final moments to score the winning goal but the Poughkeepsie net minder was solid on defense.

Schwebel and Nick Alexander played outstanding games for the locals.

Other league action saw the Albany Sport Club top Schenectady F. C., 4-2; Utica blank Little Falls, 2-0; Troy beat the Poughkeepsie K of C, 3-1; and Poughkeepsie Italians and Endicott play to a 3-3 tie.

Belinsky Headed Towards Rookie Of Year Honors

BOSTON (AP) — Robert (Bo) Belinsky has a commanding lead for American League rookie of the year honors and the cocky southpaw isn't pausing for a backward glance. He's eyeing the future.

"He had just as good stuff today as he did in his no-hitter against Baltimore," Los Angeles Angels' Manager Bill Rigney said Sunday night, after Belinsky shut out Boston 1-0 on two hits.

Belinsky currently boasts a 6-1 record and a glossy 2.61 earned run average.

Pete Runnels beat out a topped infield roller for a hit as the first man to face Belinsky, in the second game of a doubleheader. Rookie Bob Tillman doubled high off the left field wall in the fourth for the other hit.

"Naturally, I'm pleased," Belinsky said. "I didn't think my fast ball was as fast as usual. I used the screwball a lot and kept it low. The big thing was that I got the curve over when I needed it."

Belinsky wanted to talk about the future. "When I get to the point of facing the teams the second time around in the league, I'll use my curve more and more. But until I know the hitters better, I'll stick mostly to the fast stuff."

Gordon Krajna Wins 2nd Straight College Tennis Tourney

New Paltz Star Captures Title In Cortland Play

Gordon Krajna, the tennis ace for the State University of Education at New Paltz, won a second consecutive State Colege net tournament over the weekend at Cortland. He stopped Ron Rienzo of the host school, 10-8, 6-2, in the finals.

A senior at New Paltz, Krajna was defending his championship. In four years of varsity competition, he has captured 41 of 42 matches, bowing for the first time a week ago. This championship was gained after two days of competition between eight of the top state colleges in New York.

Rienzo got a measure of revenge in the doubles when he teamed with Neil Seiden of Cortland to whip Krajna and Bob Dilman of New Paltz, 3-6 6-2 5-3, in the championship match.

Another New Paltz performer, Ron Mutchnik, finished fourth in singles competition. He was beaten, 3-6 6-2, 6-2, by Seiden of the host school.

Krajna has been the big point man for the New Paltz tennis team over the past four seasons. The team had a long winning streak snapped several weeks ago.

Sport Club, Poughkeepsie Play to 2-2 Soccer Deadlock

Albany A. C. Now Tied for Top Spot After 8-1 Victory

After scoring two goals in the first half, Kingston Sport Club players had to settle for a 2-2 tie at Poughkeepsie against the Blue and White team yesterday.

Albany Athletic Club stopped the Schenectady Sons of Italy, 8-1, in another Central New York Soccer game to move into a first place tie with the locals. Since there are only four weeks remaining, the battle figures to go right to the finish.

Alex Dirks put Kingston ahead with a neat goal at the 30 minute mark. He received a pass from Hans Wolf. Five minutes later it was Reiner Schwebel who tallied, shooting a bullet into the Poughkeepsie net.

The home side sliced the lead in half with a penalty shot and at the 74 minute mark, Lou Santos knotted the count.

The Sport Club had several chances in the final moments to score the winning goal but the Poughkeepsie net minder was solid on defense.

Schwebel and Nick Alexander played outstanding games for the locals.

Other league action saw the Albany Sport Club top Schenectady F. C., 4-2; Utica blank Little Falls, 2-0; Troy beat the Poughkeepsie K of C, 3-1; and Poughkeepsie Italians and Endicott play to a 3-3 tie.

Belinsky Headed Towards Rookie Of Year Honors

BOSTON (AP) — Robert (Bo) Belinsky has a commanding lead for American League rookie of the year honors and the cocky southpaw isn't pausing for a backward glance. He's eyeing the future.

Orioles Sign Robin Roberts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robin Roberts, the pitching star who won 234 games during 14 seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies, was signed today by the Baltimore Orioles.

The 35-year-old right-hander was expected to join the Orioles tonight in Cleveland.

Roberts was sold by the Phillies after a disappointing 1-10 record last year, and he failed to stick with the New York Yankees during a spring trial.

The Orioles did not disclose salary terms, but said Roberts would receive the same pay he would have received from the Yankees. He is believed to be in the $30,000-a-year bracket.

At his peak, when he won at least 20 games for six consecutive seasons (1950-55), Roberts was paid an estimated $50,000 a year.

Roberts visited Baltimore May 11 for a workout under almost secret conditions. He impressed manager Billy Hitchcock and the Oriole coaches with his performance.

Onteora Golfers Defeat Rondout

Onteora Central golfers won their third match of the season, beating Rondout Valley, 9½-2½, Wednesday at Lake Mohonk. Four nine hole matches were played.

David Dean of Onteora shot a 39 and took three points from Rich Baron, the Rondout Valley ace. John Gordon, Onteora, won from Bryon Joyce of Rondout, 2-1. Jay VanWagenen of the Indians had his best round of the year with a 38 in beating Rick Spada, 3-0. John Peacock of Onteora and Ray Galagher split their match, 1½-1½.

New Paltz Hawks Rap Drew, 9-7

Collecting 15 hits in their best slugging show of the season, New Paltz College Hawks won their second baseball game in nine starts, 9-7, at Drew on Saturday.

Richie Mandia slammed a three-run homer in the third inning and winning pitcher Sandy Davidson had a solo clout in the sixth.

Each member of the starting lineup had at least one safety for the Hawks. They will host Danbury on Wednesday in their next start.

Davidson and Don Bentsen shared mound honors for the winners.

Big Chief Mel McGaha Leads Tribe Uprising In American League With Off-Season Trades

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Cleveland finished fifth last season under their sixth manager in as many years.

Fred Melvin McGaha, who learned the hard way in the minors, was put in charge.

There were heap big barters. Jimmy Piersall, admittedly a disturbing influence with the Tribe, went to Washington for Dick Donovan. Johnny Temple was shipped to Baltimore for three minor leaguers. Bobby Locke was swapped to the Chicago Cubs for Jerry Kindall.

In connection with the Great Indian Uprising, it is apropos to recall Mel McGaha's prophetic words, uttered to this department late last February at the Tucson training base.

"We wouldn't have traded Piersall had I not believed Ty Cline was ready to take over in center field," said McGaha.

"The Indians finishing seventh in double plays makes it obvious why Temple went. I predict that Kindall will make it big for us at second base.

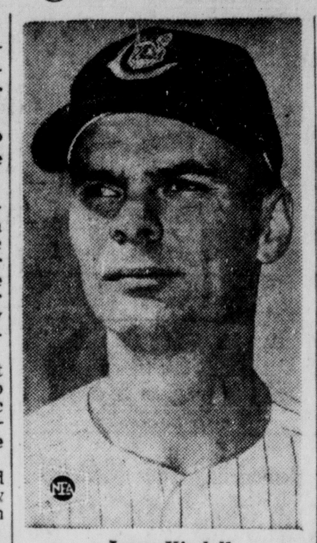

"Kindall has improved considerably at bat the last two years. His average hardly would indicate that he had the highest slugging percentage of any National League second baseman last season. Bobby Locke didn't pitch much for us, so we gave the Cubs no one whom we'll miss for Kindall."

The 6-2, 180-pound Kindall

"Will make it big"

was phenomenal in his first seven games against the Yankees, whom the Indians have to and dearly delight to beat. Near oldtimers are calling Kindall the slickest play-making second baseman in the teepee since Ray Mack of the early 1940's, better than Joe Gordon in his waning days. Genuine graybeards are comparing him with Napoleon Lajoie.

Kindall batted in 14 runs in his first 27 games with the Indians, eight of them opposed to the Yankees.

Jerry Kindall

Ten of Jerry's 26 hits have been at the expense of New York pitching. He had two doubles and a triple as the Indians bagged two out of three at Yankee Stadium. It was his three-run home run which started the Tribe's comeback against a five-run lead as they swept their second doubleheader with the Yankees to make it three out of four on the lakefront.

Kindall's wide range improved Woody Held at shortstop and made a full-time first baseman out of Tito Francona.

McGaha and General Manager Gabe Paul sought pitching, and the latter move enabled them to trade Vic Power and Dick Stigman to Minneapolis for Pedro Ramos. Donovan, who came from the Senators for Piersall, started with six straight victories and the Tribe prevailed in the game in which he was flattened.

Don Rudolph, a Triple A pitcher, went to Washington for Willie Tasby. This gave McGaha two complete outfields. They are composed of the right-hand batters, Chuck Essegian, Tasby and Gene Green, and the left-hand hitters, Al Luplow, Cline and Willie Kirkland. Don Dillard is a seventh outfielder who has come through as a pinch-hitter.

The new big chief, Mel McGaha, isn't afraid to make changes and play youngsters.

To take the American League lead, the Indians beat Whitey Ford and overcame a five-run deficit. In four games they outscored the Yankees 27-19, and outhit them, 45-30.

The season is yet a pup, but if this keeps up the Indians may get ideas and the Yankees may be sending up smoke signals of distress.

Orioles Sign Robin Roberts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robin Roberts, the pitching star who won 234 games during 14 seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies, was signed today by the Baltimore Orioles.

The 35-year-old right-hander was expected to join the Orioles tonight in Cleveland.

Roberts was sold by the Phillies after a disappointing 1-10 record last year, and he failed to stick with the New York Yankees during a spring trial.

The Orioles did not disclose salary terms, but said Roberts would receive the same pay he would have received from the Yankees. He is believed to be in the $30,000-a-year bracket.

At his peak, when he won at least 20 games for six consecutive seasons (1950-55), Roberts was paid an estimated $50,000 a year.

Roberts visited Baltimore May 11 for a workout under almost secret conditions. He impressed manager Billy Hitchcock and the Oriole coaches with his performance.

The Wrens exploded for 12 runs in the third inning to score their initial victory. Jerry Corrado led the attack with a pair of singles and a double. Willis Locke, the winning pitcher, hammered a pair of doubles while Bobby Hazenbush, Russ Suppies and Dan Moore all hit doubles for the winners.

Andy Murphy led the losers with his second homer of the season and a double. Gary Snyder socked a two-bagger and relief hurler Tom Reis produced a pair of singles.

The Crows made nine errors, permitting the Eagles to score their first victory. Mike Hawkins was the winner, allowing five hits. He aided his cause with a bases loaded homer and a single. Dave Roberts and Flip Toffel produced a pair of singles for the Crows.

Big Chief Mel McGaha Leads Tribe Uprising In American League With Off-Season Trades

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Cleveland finished fifth last season under their sixth manager in as many years.

Fred Melvin McGaha, who learned the hard way in the minors, was put in charge.

There were heap big barters. Jimmy Piersall, admittedly a disturbing influence with the Tribe, went to Washington for Dick Donovan. Johnny Temple was shipped to Baltimore for three minor leaguers. Bobby Locke was swapped to the Chicago Cubs for Jerry Kindall.

In connection with the Great Indian Uprising, it is apropos to recall Mel McGaha's prophetic words, uttered to this department late last February at the Tucson training base.

"We wouldn't have traded Piersall had I not believed Ty Cline was ready to take over in center field," said McGaha.

"The Indians finishing seventh in double plays makes it obvious why Temple went. I predict that Kindall will make it big for us at second base.

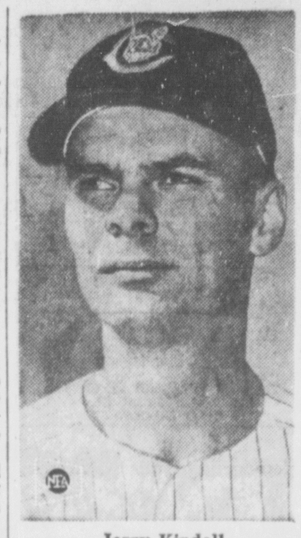

"Kindall has improved considerably at bat the last two years. His average hardly would indicate that he had the highest slugging percentage of any National League second baseman last season. Bobby Locke didn't pitch much for us, so we gave the Cubs no one whom we'll miss for Kindall."

The 6-2, 180-pound Kindall

"Will make it big"

was phenomenal in his first seven games against the Yankees, whom the Indians have to and dearly delight to beat. Near oldtimers are calling Kindall the slickest play-making second baseman in the teepee since Ray Mack of the early 1940's, better than Joe Gordon in his waning days. Genuine graybeards are comparing him with Napoleon Lajoie.

Kindall batted in 14 runs in his first 27 games with the Indians, eight of them opposed to the Yankees.

Jerry Kindall

Ten of Jerry's 26 hits have been at the expense of New York pitching. He had two doubles and a triple as the Indians bagged two out of three at Yankee Stadium. It was his three-run home run which started the Tribe's comeback against a five-run lead as they swept their second doubleheader with the Yankees to make it three out of four on the lakefront.

Kindall's wide range improved Woody Held at shortstop and made a full-time first baseman out of Tito Francona.

McGaha and General Manager Gabe Paul sought pitching, and the latter move enabled them to trade Vic Power and Dick Stigman to Minneapolis for Pedro Ramos. Donovan, who came from the Senators for Piersall, started with six straight victories and the Tribe prevailed in the game in which he was flattened.

Don Rudolph, a Triple A pitcher, went to Washington for Willie Tasby. This gave McGaha two complete outfields. They are composed of the right-hand batters, Chuck Essegian, Tasby and Gene Green, and the left-hand hitters, Al Luplow, Cline and Willie Kirkland. Don Dillard is a seventh outfielder who has come through as a pinch-hitter.

The new big chief, Mel McGaha, isn't afraid to make changes and play youngsters.

To take the American League lead, the Indians beat Whitey Ford and overcame a five-run deficit. In four games they outscored the Yankees 27-19, and outhit them, 45-30.

The season is yet a pup, but if this keeps up the Indians may get ideas and the Yankees may be sending up smoke signals of distress.

Parent-Teachers Congress Lists Many Projects

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A three-year action program to improve the lot of the nation's economically and socially deprived youngsters was launched today by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Delegates to the congress' annual convention were given a wide-ranging list of projects to be tackled by 12 million memebers of 47,00 local PTA's.

"These children need richer educational opportunities and more social services than other children, and the PTA is determined to help them get what they need," said Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins, national president.

Economically and socially deprived youngsters, usually referred to as "the disadvantaged," include children of migrant farm workers, children whose parents are on relief and children who lack adequate supervision while their mothers work. Most of them are in Negro families which have moved from the south to Northern cities and Puerto Rican families which have flocked to New York City.

The program recommends that local PTA's:

Support establishment of nursery schools and kindergartens to help disadvantaged children overcome the handicaps of their limited backgrounds.

Encourage schools to develop "higher horizons' programs, patterned after those in New York City, to broaden the children's cultural experiences.

Help to establish day-care services for children of working mothers.

Work for improved and expanded guidance and counseling services, starting in the elementary schools.

Sponsor stay-in school campaigns.

Urge school administrations to keep vocational education programs up to date, useful and practical.

Spark the formation of communitywide committees to work on the problems of schol drpouts and unemployed youth.

Granite Hotel Annex Damaged by Fire

Fire believed to have been caused by a lighted cigaret caused extensive damage shortly before midnight Sunday to a section of the Granite Hotel annex at Granite.

Firemen in command of Chief Edward Carle, Kerhonkson, battled the flames for some time before gaining control of the fire. The chief said the fire started in a corner room of the huge frame building and spread to the second floor.

Fire fighters reportedly made a good stop of the blaze and confined fire damage to a few rooms. Chief Carle said the building is used as living quarters for employes at the hotel property.

The chief said a lighted cigaret apparently set fire to a bed. The fire was discovered about 11:40 p. m. Saturday.

Rocky's Medicare Idea Would Hurt Insurance

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—One of the sponsor's of President Kennedy's controversial medicare bill says Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's substitute plan would result in government interference in the insurance industry.

The President's plan is for financing medical care for the aged through Social Security. The New York governor endorses that principle but says recipients should have the option of drawing benefits in cash so that they could buy private health insurance.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., said at a Senior Citizens Rally Saturday night of the Rockefeller plan:

"In the opinion of some experts, it would be extremely difficult to safeguard the aged under this option proposal without a degree of federal interference with the private insurance industry—an interference which the insurance companies would oppose and the government doesn't desire."

Bar Narcotic Use In Religious Ritual

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Use of peyote, a cactus-grown narcotic, as a religious ritual is banned in California and this does not constitute violation of religious freedom, the attorney general's office said today.

Members of the Native American Church of the United States retain the Indian belief that the spirit of God resides in peyote.

Members of the church contended their constitutional guarantee of religious freedom was being violated, but the attorney general's office said; "If a law in reasonable pursuance of the objective of protecting health conflicts with one's religious practices, the practices and not the law must yield."

2,600 Europeans Flee Algeria During Weekend

ALGIERS (AP)—Driven by Secret Army Organization terrorism and the fear of Moslem reprisals, 2,600 Europeans fled Algeria by plane over the weekend.

So great was the demand for air passage that military authorities had to add four planes to 12 flights previously scheduled for Sunday.

In the five days preceding the weekend, officials said about 2,600 persons departed with no apparent intention of returning to terror-plagued Algeria. Outgoing flights normally carry 1,600 passengers a week.

A similar rush for ship passage was reported along the Algiers docks, as alarm spread over increasing slaughter by killers of the Secret Army Organization and the threat of reprisals by Moslem commandos.

All week the airport was jammed, mostly by women, children and elderly persons.

Those with police priority tickets were allowed to board outgoing planes first.

About 15 seats per plane were generally reserved for officials and military personnel and their families. Medical patients and other special cases were also given priority. The rest had to wait their turn.
